American Bankers Pledge Cooperation To Roosevelt

PRESIDENT ASKS BANKS EASE CREDIT

Explains Reasons For Federal Supervision Program During Address
ACTION UNANIMOUS
Flattering Report Is Read Before Convention By Chairman of Committee

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—(UP)—The American Bankers' association pledged its cooperation with President Roosevelt's recovery efforts today in a significant gesture of response to the president's reassuring address calling for shoulder-to-shoulder action.

Recommendations of the resolutions committee calling for continued cooperation with the administration and urging early balancing of the budget were adopted unanimously in a conciliatory spirit in sharp contrast to the anti-New Deal sentiment prevalent at last year's convention.

The stand of the 4,000 delegates cleared the way for a cooperative drive for recovery along the lines suggested by the president in his address last night. "The time is ripe for an alliance of all forces," he said.

The association went on record as recognizing the temporary need of large emergency expenditures, and as viewing President Roosevelt as "an understanding statesman" for "settling a time schedule for expenditures to be made for relief and recovery."

Balancing the budget, the approved report said "would eliminate fears of currency inflation." The bankers, at the same time held that stability of the monetary system is "fundamental" if business is to improve.

Hits Central Bank

An indirect slap was taken at suggestions for creation of a central bank—one of the reports worrying bankers—when the association's recorders—themselves as having complete "faith in the present banking structure."

Industry and trade were called on to avail themselves of credit facilities by the association.

Max B. Nahm, chairman of the resolutions committee, read the report before a large audience in the national theater and it was approved without further discussion.

Scattered applause greeted Nahm's remarks and again when he said bankers were cooperating to provide legitimate credit for industry, commerce and agriculture.

President Roosevelt pointed out that in March, 1923, he had "asked the people of this country to renew their confidence in banks."

"They took me at my word," he said. "I ask the bankers of this country to renew their confidence in the people of this country. I hope you will take me at my word."

Referring to emergency agencies, the president said:

"I find almost general agreement."

CHICAGO TEACHERS LOSE WITH INSULL

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—(UP)—Teachers who Chicago's unpaid school teachers were trapped in the collapse of Samuel Insull's corporation securities company was offered by the government today in the Insull mail fraud trial.

Miss Olga Lovgren, a teacher here 39 years, said that during the two years the teachers were being paid in scrip word was passed around that they could "make a deal" with the Utilities Security company.

"I went to the office of the company and talked with Mrs. Emma J. Schmidt, a clerk," the teacher testified.

"She told me that I could dispose of my scrip there and get 20 percent of it in cash if I would apply the balance on Insull investments."

Mrs. Schmidt told her, she said, that Corporation Securities was "our pet stock" and "every bit as good as Utilities Securities."

"I bought it and of course I went down with the others," she testified.

BRITAIN OFFERS MEDIATION IN U. S.-JAPAN NAVAL SPLIT

PROTEST FILED WITH JAPAN ON OIL POLICIES

British and Dutch Governments Also Object to Discrimination

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—(UP)—Formal representations have been made to Japan by the state department complaining of Japanese attempts to "squeeze out" foreign oil companies doing business in Japan and Manchukuo.

It was revealed in authoritative quarters today.

Similar representations are understood to have been made, separately, by the British and Dutch governments.

These representations all were understood to have informed Japan that attempts by the Japanese-supported government of Manchukuo to establish an oil monopoly constitute violations of the "open door" policy in China. Likewise they are in violation of a number of treaties between Japan and foreign governments, including the United States, the representations held.

The representations were considered particularly significant in view of the navy discussions now going on in London at which Japan is seeking a navy equal to those of the United States and Great Britain.

American, British and Dutch oil companies have repeatedly complained to their respective governments concerning the treatment received from the Japanese and Manchukuo governments.

In Manchukuo, a government monopoly has been set up which proposed to handle all oil distribution in that territory.

In Japan, recent legislation has required all foreign oil companies doing business there to maintain in their tanks in Japan a constant supply of oil equal to total sales by each company over the previous six months. The oil companies have complained that this would mean a financial outlay for construction of new tanks and for continuous storage of oil which would render it impossible to do business in Japan.

Officials here explained that the difficulties in Japan proper involved no treaty violations such as those allegedly incurred in Manchukuo.

FIJI-HONOLULU HOP AGAIN IS PUT OFF

NASELAI BEACH, Fiji Islands, Friday, Oct. 26.—(UP)—Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, bailed twice in efforts to leave the Fiji Islands for Honolulu on his trans-Pacific flight, indicated today that he probably will wait until Oct. 29 when the beach here will be exposed by low tides during the morning hours.

In previous attempts to get the heavily-loaded monoplane "The Lady Southern Cross" into the air for the 2750-mile flight, Commanded Kingsford-Smith had to wait for afternoon low tides to clear the sandy beach. On each attempt, heavy winds arose to prevent his maneuvering the Lockheed Altair plane into position to rise.

CRUDE OIL PRICES CUT BELOW DOLLAR

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 25.—(UP)—Small purchasers of oil in the mid-continent area cut loss from dollar prices today while the federal government started its supreme effort to stamp out the running of "Hot Oil" in East Texas.

The Globe and Kanotex Refining company announced prices of 62 cents a barrel, a reduction of about 46 cents, in Oklahoma and Kansas areas. The Atlas Refining company started the cuts two days ago with a posting of 60 cents for East Texas oil, as compared with the old $1.10.

JAFSIE CLAIMS HAUPTMANN IS "RANSOM MAN"

Convinced Suspect Held in Flemington Is Man He Paid $50,000

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Oct. 25.—(UP)—Dr. John F. (Jafsie) Condon has become convinced that Bruno R. Hauptmann is the mysterious "John" to whom he passed the $50,000 Lindbergh ransom. The United Press was informed by a reliable source.

The decision came at the conclusion of a surprise visit of Dr. Condon to the cell of the murder suspect yesterday.

For an hour and ten minutes the elderly lecturer spoke to Hauptmann along the lines of his conversation with the ransom negotiator in St. Raymond's cemetery. When he left he was convinced for the first time that the German carpenter and "John" were the same person.

As Hauptmann came back to the prison from the courthouse where he had pleaded not guilty to the murder indictment, he was confronted by Dr. Condon.

The intermediary restricted the interview to words and phrases etched on his mind from the day of the kidnap negotiations with "John." Over and over he repeated key sentences until he was satisfied.

Before leaving the jail, Dr. Condon exacted from Attorney General David T. Wilentz of New Jersey a promise not to reveal for several days what had transpired in the cell. Had "Jafsie" been unable to identify Hauptmann there would have been no pledge of secrecy.

Dr. Condon's visit came when he was considered out of the case as far as the trial of Hauptmann was concerned. Both defense and prosecution had indicated they would not call him. He had been vague when asked to identify the suspect earlier in the Bronx.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.—(UP)—California politics was stirred today by widely spread rumors that Upton Sinclair and Raymond Haight might reach an agreement whereby one or the other would withdraw and their combined strength be thrown against Frank F. Merriam, the Republican candidate.

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 25.—(UP)—The 1934 Nobel prize for medicine tonight was awarded jointly to three Americans, Drs. George Minot and William Murphy of Harvard, and George R. Whipple of Rochester, N. Y.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—(UP)—A new case to force more than 25,000 allegedly illegally registered voters to show cause why they should not be barred from casting votes at the coming election probably will be filed this week, Attorney General U. S. Webb said today.

BELIEVED EPIC PLATFORM HURT BY ROOSEVELT

Politicians Say Sinclair Strength Ebbing From White House Silence

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—(UP)—Politicians believed today that Upton Sinclair's strength would dwindle under President Roosevelt's silent treatment of the former Socialist's California gubernatorial campaign.

Mr. Roosevelt has side-stepped several opportunities to boost Sinclair's plan to end poverty in California. The first occasion was when Sinclair hastened to Hyde Park immediately after the August primary which put him at the head of the California state ticket.

Culbert L. Olson, chairman of the California Democratic committee, appeared in Washington this week listening for kind administrative words which could be shouted from the West Coast. But Olson left town without a White House audience.

Again at a press conference yesterday Mr. Roosevelt was given an opportunity to bless Sinclair's campaign but he refused to do so, even indirectly. There are indications that administration advisers feel the Sinclair forces sought to put Mr. Roosevelt on the political spot at Hyde Park.

Olson insisted during his flying visit to Washington and New York Democratic headquarters that the National committee was cooperating in the California campaign.

But evidence that the administration dislikes the Sinclair candidacy and would prefer even the election of F. F. Merriam, the Republican candidate, is so obvious to politicians that they are predicting Sinclair will be defeated.

Democrats are concerned about the house slate. Sen. Hiram W. Johnson, nominated for re-election by the Democrats, Republicans and two minor political groups is a sure winner.

The 1932 Roosevelt campaign brought 11 Democrats to the house. The Republicans won nine seats. If Farley's hopes for next month are realized the Democrats must hold their own in California.

Farley believes the administration will have as many house seats in the next house as in the past one. His statisticians have figured that losses and gains will just about counter balance an that the 74th congress will consist of a house and senate in which Democrats will possess two-thirds majorities.

STREAMLINE TRAIN SETS NEW RECORDS

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(UP)—The bullet-shaped M-10001, fastest train ever to cross the United States, rolled into Grand Central station today with a new record of two days, eight hours and 55 minutes from Los Angeles to the heart of Manhattan.

The record of 56 hours and 55 minutes set today compared to the former mark of 71 hours and 27 minutes, made by the late E. H. Harriman, then chairman of the Union Pacific, in a dash from the San Francisco earthquake area in 1906.

At times the train hit a speed of around 120 miles an hour on short stretches during its coast to coast run. The world's mark for a regular train, fully equipped, was made by the train after leaving Cheyenne, Wyo., when it clocked 120 miles an hour for two miles. One former mark of 115 miles an hour was set by a Philadelphia and Reading train in a sprint near Egg Harbor in 1904.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(UP)—H. D. Robinson, engineer of the train, collapsed a few minutes after he brought the speed train into New York after a record breaking run from Los Angeles.

Clash Over Equality Is Predicted

Great Britain Willing To Concede Japan's Demands in Principle

(Copyright, 1934, by United Press)
LONDON, Oct. 25.—(UP)—Great Britain, foreseeing a clash between the United States and Japanese delegations on naval armaments, appeared ready today to offer its mediation, and take the key position in negotiations.

Even the generalities in speeches of the chief Japanese delegates at their first meeting with the Americans yesterday sufficed to unveil the contrast between Japanese and American outlooks.

Japan wants formal recognition of its contention that it is entitled to naval equality.

The United States takes the view that under the present naval ratios Japan has relative equality, considering its geographical position, and entire security.

Great Britain seemed ready to concede Japan's demand for equality, but in principle only, under an agreement that Japan would not build up to equality within a fixed number of years.

Great Britain and the United States have similar problems in keeping up their navies, but Great Britain has complicating questions to consider. One is Japan's inroads on its trade which it is trying to offset. Another is the expected Japanese demand that Great Britain abandon the great Singapore naval base, on Singapore Island at the base of the Malay peninsula between India and Australia. Britain has spent $55,000,000 on the base and plans to spend another $15,000,000 before its completion in 1938. It will be the Gibraltar of the east.

There was reported to be a difference of opinion in the British cabinet regarding the best policy to pursue on naval equality.

FAMOUS VIOLINIST CALLED BY DEATH

GALLUP, N. M., Oct. 25.—(UP)—Russel Rinaldo, Italian violinist who studied under Emile Sauret in Paris and built a fortune on the concert stage in the pre-war era, died yesterday in the charity ward of a Gallup hospital with only his sister at his bedside.

Rinaldo's was the story of a great artist broken by the war who spent his savings in an effort to restore his memory, lost during service with Italian troops, and then found himself out of step with the post-war world.

When the World War broke out, Rinaldo had become a wealthy man and was acclaimed an outstanding violinist. He had appeared throughout the United States, and in Europe.

He had retained his Italian citizenship, and he enlisted with the king's armies. He became a lieutenant; served with distinction during the early years of the conflict.

GLORIA VANDERBILT FAVORS HER AUNT

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(UP)—Little Gloria Vanderbilt prefers her aunt, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, to her mother.

She made this emphatically clear in a three-hour visit with Supreme Court Justice John F. Carew, who is presiding over trial of Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt's suit to regain custody of the 10-year-old child from Mrs. Whitney, her sister-in-law. Justice Carew previously had said the child's preference would have considerable weight in his decision.

Gloria's visit was attended by much secrecy. Everything had been prepared to provide as natural a setting as possible.

Only counsel for the opposing sides and a stenographer were present during the interview.

U. S. SOLON IS ATTACKED AND BADLY BEATEN

Sen. Overton, Huey Long Ally, Assaulted in Hotel Lobby This Morning

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 25.—(UP)—U. S. Senator John N. Overton, political ally of Huey P. Long, charged today that he was attacked and beaten in a hotel lobby here by Bert Henry, president of the New Orleans "Honest Election League."

Henry's attack, Overton said, was a complete surprise. The senator, a small, paunchy man, fought back against his husky opponent, and, according to several witnesses, struck several solid blows to Henry's face. Overton suffered face cuts.

Friends pulled the men apart before any considerable damage was done. Overton repaired to his room for first aid treatment while Henry sauntered out of the hotel.

While physicians administered aid for a rather deep cut over the senator's eye, and several abrasions on the lips, Overton told of the encounter.

"I heard someone say: 'I want to see you,' he said, 'and when I looked up there stood Henry.' 'You owe me an apology,' he said. 'For charges you made against me after the senatorial investigation of your election two years ago.'"

"I owe you nothing," Overton said he replied, and then, he charged, Henry struck him.

"I am not going to prefer charges against Henry," the senator said, "and I'm not going to run out on him, either. If he wants to fight some more, he knows where to find me."

FOURTH AIRPLANE SAFE AT MELBOURNE

MELBOURNE, Oct. 26.—(UP)—A fourth airplane crew in the England-Australia air race was here today after breaking the old flying record, and 19 more crews, scattered over Asia and Europe, seemed still hopeful of completing the 11,300-mile air-line course.

Lieut. Cathcart Jones, of the British Royal Air Force, and Ken Waller, Great Britain, finished over Melbourne race course at 2:54 p. m. Melbourne time yesterday (11:54 p. m. Wednesday EST).

They are eligible for the hand-cup prizes of $3000 and $4000.

They made their flight in a De Havilland Comet, with twin Gipsy VI motors, a duplicate of the plane in which C. W. A. Scott and Tom Campbell Black, the winners, flew here in less than 3 days.

SINCLAIR LAGGING IN DIGEST'S POLL

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(UP)—Upton Sinclair was running far behind Governor Frank F. Merriam in new city figures on the Literary Digest's poll of the California gubernatorial race, the Digest announced through the United Press today.

Figures compiled today were from five cities, and gave Governor Merriam 6,579 and Sinclair 2,349. Added to the totals from other cities announced yesterday, Merriam has 15,341 and Sinclair 7,547.

Statewide figures thus far compiled will be released to Friday afternoon newspapers as published in the Digest on Oct. 27.

Declares In Address That Sinclair Bubble Has Burst; Comes South

SAN JOSE, Cal., Oct. 25.—(UP)—"The Sinclair bubble has burst in California," Raymond L. Haight told a campaign meeting here last night in predicting that the present gubernatorial campaign lies between "Governor Frank Merriam and myself."

Haight, the Commonwealth party candidate, assailed Republican Merriam as the "Man Friday of the political racketeers."

He charged that supporters of Merriam were spending $2,000,000 to win the election and that "the cost of each of the 22,900 Merriam billboards would feed a family from 30 to 60 days."

"Fear, finance, falsehood and flattery are the four horsemen of the Merriam campaign," Haight said.

In declaring that Sinclair, the Democratic aspirant, had no chance of election, the Los Angeles attorney scoffed at attempts to make a "honey man" of the sponsor of the EPIC plan.

"If Sinclair were elected, he could do nothing without the support of the legislature and he only has the support of six senators," the speaker said.

The candidate claimed that Merriam's support of the Central Valley Water project was "insincere" because he purportedly accepted support from corporations opposing the plan.

HELEN M'ADOO PUTS OFF WEDDING PLANS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 25.—(UP)—Threat of disinheritance was added today as a new obstacle to the romance of Ellen Wilson McAdoo and Rafael Lopez de Onate, dark-haired motion picture actor.

Her father, U. S. Sen. William Gibbs McAdoo, will cut her off without the proverbial penny if she pursues her intention of marrying the 35-year-old actor, Col. William G. Neblett, the senator's law partner, declared. Neblett has been McAdoo's unofficial agent in the affair, challenging de Onate to prove he is not of Filipino blood.

"Ellen has no money of her own," Neblett asserted. "All she has is a monthly allowance given her by her father. This, and all she has if she goes ahead with her wild plan to marry a man whom her father has never seen and of whom he knows nothing." The wedding has been indefinitely postponed.

BOSTON, Oct. 25.—(UP)—Miss Ardath G. Atkinson, 24-year-old author and detritus of Los Angeles, Calif., who has been missing since August 7, has been found at Portland, Me., according to word received today at Boston police headquarters.

The young woman was found by David Needleman of the Federal Transients bureau there as a result of a police radio broadcast.

IMMEDIATE PAYMENT IS DEMANDED

Convention Goes Against Wishes of President By Vote of 987 to 183

OPPONENTS JEERED

Wild Demonstration Breaks Out As Delegates Vote Controversial Question

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 25.—(UP)—The American Legion convention by a vote of 987 to 183 today passed a resolution demanding immediate cash payment of the soldiers' bonus.

Debate was comparatively short on this issue which may cause the government to distribute almost $3,000,000,000 among veterans of the World War to stimulate American business.

The Legion also demanded elimination of all interest accrued and refund of interest already paid on previous payments on adjusted service certificates, not due until 1945.

The resolution, as adopted by the convention, makes its request upon congress on grounds that it is in line with current governmental policy of spending vast sums of money to aid business recovery.

The vote was taken during a tumult in which advocates of immediate bonus payment booed delegations which refused to side with them on the issue.

The vote was announced after clamoring delegates had forced National Commander Hayes to order a roll call. He already had declared the resolution passed by voice vote.

Cheers echoed through the convention hall as bonus payment advocates heard state after state and its quota of delegates to the "aye" column that totaled up to such impressive figures.

Overseas caps of the veterans, joined in convention in an annual reminder of World War services, flew into the air in approval of the vote.

Boos roared out when the delegations that remained steadfast with the Legion's previous position—refused to demand bonus payment—cast their "nay" votes.

In demanding the immediate payment of the bonus the Legionnaires went counter to what was regarded here as the wish of President Roosevelt. The president had opposed payment of the bonus, indirectly, on grounds that it would unbalance the nation's financial structure.

Raymond J. Kelly, chairman of the Legion's legislative committee, placed the bonus question before the convention. Delegates cheered wildly when he began reading his committee's report recommending immediate payment of the bonus.

Then Commander Hayes threw the bonus question open to debate. Hayes disregarded the shouts of "Question—Question" and recognized a number of speakers before the final vote was taken. Among them was Congressman Wright Patman, of Texas, long a bonus payment advocate.

"A better resolution could not have been written," he said. "We are not making an unreasonable request. Payment of the bonus would not hinder national recovery, but would aid it."

New York offered the chief opposition to the resolution. The New York delegation is on record against immediate payment, the state commander, John Dwight Sullivan, of New York, said. He demanded that disabled men be given adequate relief before "able bodied men."

"We have cited a lot of reasons why we should have money, but we haven't justified one of them," Sullivan said.

With its bonus votes, the Legion neared the close of its colorful annual convention.

The chief decision remaining was the election of a new national commander. This position, Legion leaders forecast, will go to Frank Belgrano, San Francisco banker, who came here with a large pledged delegation.

BANKS PLEDGE COOPERATION FOR RECOVERY

ment among bankers that these agencies must continue until such time as the banks and other private credit agencies are themselves able and ready to take over these lending functions; and when that time comes, I shall be only too glad to curtail the activities of these public agencies in proportion to the taking up of the slack but privately owned agencies."

The president pointed out that necessity of large expenditures for unemployment relief continued but suggested that "we should all proceed in the expectation that the revival of business activity will steadily reduce this burden."

Prices Steadier
He made no direct reference to stabilization of the dollar but said that "with respect to international relationships, I have been glad to note the growing appreciation in other nations of the desirability of arriving, as quickly as possible, at a point of steadiness of prices and values."

This policy, he said, "we have constantly kept before us as our national policy."

FULL TEXT OF PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS TO BANKERS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The text of President Roosevelt's address last night before the American Bankers' Association.

I am glad to be here tonight at your invitation to speak to you informally about some of our common problems. As many of you know by personal experience, it is not a new thing for me to talk with bankers. I have been seeing many of your number almost daily during the past year and a half, and let me make it quite clear that in these meetings I have not done all the talking.

I have been a good listener and I have asked many questions. I have found there is the striking lack of unanimity of opinion among bankers that characterizes many other groups in the country. It has been my purpose to seek out underlying agreement in the opinions that bankers have expressed.

Unity of Purpose
A true function of the head of the government of the United States is to find among many discordant elements that unity of purpose that is best for the nation as a whole. This is necessary because government is not merely one of many coordinate groups in the community or the nation, but government is essentially the outward expression of the unity and the leadership of all groups.

Consequently the old fallacious notion of the bankers on the one side and the government on the other as more or less equal and independent units has passed away. Government by the necessity of things must be the leader, must be the judge of conflicting interests of all groups in the community, including bankers. The government is the outward expression of the common life of all citizens.

Why of Supervision
What is a bank and what are its relations with the people? Why do the people through their government supervise banks?

The people put their money into banks. They do this in order to protect it and in some cases to have it earn a small income. It costs money to provide this service and, therefore, the banks are permitted to invest these deposits in order to pay their expenses and to provide a reasonable profit to their stockholders.

The public has no means of knowing safe investments so it turns to its government to supervise the bank. Government has accepted this responsibility.

In its relation with bankers, the purpose of government should be threefold. First, to promote the confidence of the people in banks and banking in view of the important service that banks and banking may perform for the people as a whole.

Second, to make this confidence a real and living thing by assisting banks to render themselves useful and worthy of this confidence through wise supervision.

Point Pressed
A third purpose now offers itself, and I wish with all my earnestness to press this point tonight.

Government should assert its leadership in encouraging not only the confidence of the people in banks, but the confidence of the banks in the people. In March, 1933, I asked the people of this country to renew their confidence in banks. They took me at my word. Tonight I ask the bankers of this country to renew their confidence in the people of this country. I hope you will take me at my word.

I need not recount the situation of the banks in the spring of 1933. I found that the restoration of banking activity itself was my first responsibility on assuming office. It was necessary that the government throw itself squarely into the task of bringing back to the banks the deposits of the citizens of the country.

People's Response
As a result of my appeal the people responded by restoring their confidence in the banks of the United States.

The primary purpose accomplished, it became necessary that the congress and the administration enact measures to build up the banking structure so that it could once more provide support for the economic life of the country. Moreover it had to be built and we built it strong enough so that it could resist future stresses and strains.

Government found it necessary to create and get under way new emergency credit agencies and to use to the fullest extent the already existing Reconstruction Finance Corporation. These credit agencies moved with heroic energy, and it was a source of the utmost satisfaction to find that when the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation went into operation the banking structure had regained a very considerable amount of its strength and its vitality.

Widened of Course
I think it is only fair to say that never since the formation of our government has such a task been achieved in so short a time. Happily, the present security of our banks bears witness to the wise course that we pursued.

I find also general agreement among bankers that these agencies must continue until such time as the banks and other private credit agencies are themselves able and ready to take over their lending functions; and when that time comes, I shall be only too glad to curtail the activities of these public agencies in proportion to the taking up of the slack by the privately owned agencies.

I venture to suggest to you that when the history of these years comes to be written, while the closing and the reopening of the banks will occupy a prominent place, even greater interest will be centered in the fact that within a few months not only was the banking structure strengthened, but the great governmental lending agencies went into action and also saved from disastrous deflation, liquidation and loss a vast portion of the farms, homes, railroads and corporations of the nation.

Happiness of All
This definitely rescued the security and happiness of all of us. Just as it is to be expected that the banks will resume their responsibility and take up the burden that the government has assumed through its credit agencies, so I assume and expect that private business generally will be financed by the great credit resources which the present liquidity of banks makes possible.

Our traditional system has been built upon this principle and the recovery of our economic life should be accomplished through the assumption of this responsibility.

The present steady and unmistakable revival of public demand for goods and services should provide the assurance necessary to the financing of industrial life.

The effort is bending every effort through the treasury, the Federal Reserve System, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Federal Housing Administration to facilitate and encourage the revival of private investment.

Housing Program
I commend the objectives of the housing administration to your immediate consideration, but at the same time I ask you to note that all of these new agencies are seeking consultation and co-operation with you bankers.

While there lies before us still the necessity for large expenditures for the relief of unemployment, I think we should all proceed in the expectation that the revival of business activity will steadily reduce this burden.

I am grateful to know of the expression of belief, public and private, of your members that the speed that we shall make toward this objective is something that no one has the wisdom or the hardihood to estimate. This recognition reflects a growing appreciation of the problems resting upon a responsible Chief Executive.

Prices and Values
With respect to international relationships, I have been glad to note the growing appreciation in other nations of the desirability of arriving, as quickly as possible, at a point of steadiness of prices and values. This objective of a greater steadiness we have constantly kept before us as our national policy.

The fact that American business men and bankers are devoting more and more individual study and attention to the wider problems of our nation and of international affairs is manifesting itself in many ways. It seems to me that this is a very important development.

Let me make it clear to you that the government of the United States has daily and even hourly contact with sources of information which cover not only every state and section of our own country try, but also every other portion of the habitable globe.

Complete Data
This information is more complete, more informative and more accurate than that possessed by any private agency.

I need not tell you that the true wealth is not a static thing. It is a living thing made out of the disposition of men to create and to distribute the good things of life with rising standards of living.

Wealth grows when men co-operate; but it stagnates in an atmosphere of misunderstanding and misrepresentation.

Here, in America, the material means are at hand for the growth of true wealth. It is in the spirit of American institutions that wealth should come as the reward of hard labor of mind and hand. That is what we call a profit system.

Its real fulfillment comes in the general recognition of the rights of each factor of the community. It is not in the spirit of partisans, but partners, that America has progressed.

The time is ripe for an alliance of all forces intent upon the business of recovery. In such an alliance will be found business and banking, agriculture and industry, and labor and capital.

All-American Team
What an all-American team that is! The possibilities of such a team kindle the imagination—they encourage our determination—they make easier the tasks of those in your government who are leading it.

The nation does not merely trust or hope that we will do our duty; the nation is justified in expecting that we will do our duty.

Church To Give Benefit Party

Members of St. Anne's Catholic church will give a benefit card party and ball in the American Legion hall Saturday night, starting at 8 o'clock.

Proceeds of the affair will be used for the relief of needy and unemployed, according to H. J. Hulekamp, chairman of the committee on arrangements. Music for the dance will be furnished by Ray Ramon's orchestra. The public is invited.

Depressing the clutch pedal also actuates the starter on the new Nash.

WILL ROGERS says:

SONORA, Cal., Oct. 25.—(To the Editor of The Register): "Strathascope flyers land safely in tree top"; mighty glad, for they are awful pleasant, nice folks. During the late "Dizzy" Dean carnival in Detroit, Mr. Henry Ford introduced me to these Piccards, and I crawled in that thing (but, brother, she was anchored to old Mother Earth.) They are just about as game as anybody that went to Australia.

Last night Mr. Roosevelt spoke to the bankers. That shows a mighty broad-minded spirit on his part, for there has been times that we all thought he never would speak to 'em again.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Plans Made For Visit Of Aero Police Squadron

Plans for the big tri-county friendly flight of the Los Angeles county sheriff's aero squadron, the only organization of its kind in America, were laid at a conference here yesterday between Captain Claude E. Morgan, of the aero squadron, Executive Officer Warren E. Carey, Sheriff Logan Jackson, Chief of Police F. W. Howard and other officials.

Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz of Los Angeles county will fly with his aerial police Sunday, November 4, to greet Sheriff Jackson of Orange county, and the sheriffs of Riverside and San Bernardino counties, in a grand tour intended to promote closer relations between the sheriff offices of the four counties, it was stated.

The extent of the aerial spectacle planned was revealed in the announcement that in addition to the 25 or more airplanes and the Goodyear blimp, which will make up the sheriff's squadron, there will be more than a dozen army reserve, national guard, marine and naval planes participating in the flight.

The squadron is scheduled to arrive at Martin's airport, south of Santa Ana, at 3 p.m. Sunday, November 4. The tour will cover San Bernardino and Riverside counties before reaching Orange county.

A WORD OF COMFORT
Unlearning bad habits is treacherously difficult. You may have become accustomed to have your own way whether or not it is right and fair to others.
Facing forces which seem stronger than you are, accepting what looks like defeat for the moment, and then learning to an higher power, something which does not leave you free to do just as you please, takes a real man. God made you to be a man.

W. W. PERRY IS NAMED MEMBER OF FARM BOARD

Appointment of W. W. Perry, of Orange, to membership on the Orange County Farm Debt Adjustment committee was announced today by T. C. Tucker, chairman of the California state committee.

There now are nine members on the committee which is voluntarily assisting farmers seeking adjustment of their financial obligations so they may not lose their property. Other members of the committee are O. T. Stephens of La Habra, chairman; W. M. Cory, Santa Ana; M. B. Allen, Garden Grove; J. J. Dwyer, Anaheim; Perry W. Mathis, Anaheim; Ben Osterman, El Tor, William M. Schumacher, Santa Park, and H. L. Wakeham, Santa Ana.

Operation of the recently adopted Frazier-Lemke amendment to the National Bankruptcy act has indirectly added long term adjustment of farm debts, according to a report received by Chairman Stephens from State Chairman Tucker. The report said that many of the county committees feel that possibly their usefulness and the amount of work which they would find to do would be considerably limited by the desire on the part of the farmers to resort to the remedies provided by the Frazier-Lemke amendment.

Reports received by Chairman Tucker from county committees active in this state indicate, however, it was stated, that while the hopeless cases are taking advantage of the amendment, others are continuing to appeal to the Farm Debt Adjustment committees in an effort to effect voluntary settlements. These reports, it was stated, indicate that creditors are showing greater consideration of the requests of debtors.

The Orange county committee meets the second Monday of each month at the offices of the Farm Bureau in Santa Ana, where it receives applications for assistance from farmers. There is no charge to farmers asking for assistance.

When Miss Mabel Cole of the children's department of Rankin Dry Goods company, first proposed a doll fair as a feature of her department's opening of its Christmas season, she probably had no idea of the enthusiastic response which she would receive from Santa Ana women.

But that love for dolls so deeply ingrained in the feminine nature, has resulted in such a display of cherished childhood treasures, that the store show windows offer a collection that almost tells the history of dolls here on the American continent.

The fair is to reach its conclusion tomorrow afternoon when prizes awarded by the store, will be given by judges. Miss Cole has asked Mrs. Charles V. Davis, president of Eboli society, Mrs. R. G. Carman, president of Santa Ana Woman's club, and Mrs. Don R. Park, president of Junior Eboli society, to serve as judges.

There is to be a difficult task, although an interesting one. For every variety of doll seems represented in the display. This morning the collection was well in excess of a hundred dolls when others began coming in. One group alone showing over a score of tiny, but exquisitely costumed figures. This was the property and the work of Mrs. J. K. Evans.

The oldest dolls in the collection are eloquent of the colonial period in the nation's history, when they were the dearest possessions of ancestors of their present owners. One of these, more than 150 years old, is shown by Mrs. T. G. Kirley. Its bisque head with a chignon, and its wool delaine frock, low on the shoulders in the mode of the day, make it a charming memento of the past. Mrs. Mary L. Mayes also entered a doll nearly 120 years old, dressed in quaint polka-dotted frock, while that owned by Mrs. H. Cruise is of approximately the same period, its colonial costume almost threadbare with age.

Regal and lovely is the doll entered by Miss Elizabeth Paine, for its elaborate silken gown not only is an authentic copy of one worn by Madame Modjeska, the great Polish tragedienne, but was fashioned from Madame Modjeska's own materials. Nearly is a quaint wax doll in tucked and embroidered baby dress, the property of Mrs. L. Homer Robinson of Orange, and brought from England many years ago by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Twist.

There are boy dolls, sailor dolls, demure brides with veils and lilies of the valley, a modish grande dame with her bag, lace-edged handkerchief and white kid gloves; baby dolls galore with knitted sacques and bonnets, rompers, and white dresses, and one snug against cold weather with white fur coat and bonnet.

There are character dolls of every description and foreign countries represented include Holland, Japan, China, Korea, Germany, Italy, Spain, Switzerland, Mexico, Chile, and many others. Little Miss Marjorie Metzger entered quite an interesting collection including a corn husk doll fashioned for little children in South Carolina, a Navajo Indian, one from India, and many others.

One of the most unique of the entries is that of groups from Bolivia, each little figure measuring less than an inch in height. They represent different ceremonies, a marriage, a funeral, etc., and are exquisite in the precision of detail. They were entered by Franklin Davis of the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service at the city post office and were made for him by native servants in Bolivia.

Order Oil Well Closed Pending Trial Of Suit
A temporary injunction was granted to the State of California against the Shorridge Oil company, of Huntington Beach, at the conclusion of a hearing late yesterday before Superior Judge L. N. Turrentine, in superior court. The injunction closes down the defendant's well until trial of the case.
The state contends that the Shorridge well is slant drilled, to take oil from the tideland oil pool claimed by the state. It was stated by counsel for the oil company at yesterday's hearing that negotiations are under way for a

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON EPIC PROGRAM

13. How would such lands be used?

Ans. As food factories. This would not be a scheme to cut into little peasant farms to reduce the tenants to hand work and hard labor.

The plan is to farm it intelligently and in the most modern manner. Experts would direct operations. Modern machinery would be used. The purpose would not be to find employment for idle persons but to produce necessities for them. The unemployed would do the work. They would make the land units huge plants to produce food for the unemployed?

14. Wouldn't this compete with legitimate business?

Ans. Only such business as is derived from exploiting human suffering. It would merely be taking a burden from the tax payers. Instead of making unwilling and useless parasites of the unemployed, it would make producers of them. They would live in comfort, would enjoy social advantages, would be the workers on a state production unit. This unit would produce nothing for the general market. It would produce to aid the unemployed.

15. Could the state operate such a farm? Haven't all such undertakings failed?

Ans. The state of California has operated a number of such farms for many years and many counties have operated such farms with the utmost success. Many of the state institutions operate farms which produce food for the inmates. There is nothing new about it. Some of the finest dairies in the state are at such institutions. They have dormitories, laundries, hotels, restaurants—the service and social institutions of modern life.

16. But I read in a great metropolitan newspaper that all such co-operative institutions have failed.

Ans. Yes, you probably read it, but the facts are otherwise. The State farms have been very successful. More than that, the state itself operates a farm to teach farming—at Davis, California—part of the University of California.

17. But is this a sound idea?

Ans. The State and its citizens have always considered it sound. The State has cared for its social and mental unfortunates. Now it is about to afford its economic unfortunates a chance to produce for themselves.

18. But what other planks are there in the Democratic Platform?

Ans. CAP, the California Authority for Production, is to industry what the CAL is to farming. It is production for use, production for use by the unemployed. The plan is to use unemployed workers to make products for unemployed users. It is another of the means of taking burdens from tax payers and at the same time assisting the unemployed.

19. Has such a scheme ever been tried?

Ans. The Federal government is now operating mattress and other factories. It is manufacturing and selling power and light and heat in the Tennessee Valley. It is about to make sugar in the Virgin Islands. It has loaned a great deal of money to Unemployed Cooperatives so that they might farm and manufacture. If it is good enough for the Roosevelt Administration, it certainly ought to be good enough for California.

20. What kind of goods would be made?

Ans. Every kind that it is possible to make in a practicable way in California for the use of the unemployed.

21. Could you name some of the possible products?

Ans. Bread, canned goods, clothing, cement, shoes, furniture, lumber. It will operate laundries, repair shops, whatever is needed.

22. Would these industries compete with business?

Ans. This is the same question asked before and takes the same answer. The products will be for the unemployed, just as the products of the Unemployed Cooperatives, financed by the Federal government are for the use of the unemployed members.

23. How will these farms and factories be managed?

Ans. By managers who are trained in their work, just as enterprises and farms generally are managed. They can succeed if they are well managed; they will not succeed if they are not. This is true in farming and industry everywhere, whether publicly or privately owned, whether in America, China or anywhere else.

24. How will the products be distributed? That is, how will the farm workers get the manufactured goods and how will the factory workers get the food from the farms?

Ans. In much the same way that goods are now distributed, except that the element of profit will be absent, for this is a distribution by the state among those who produced and therefore own the goods. There will be commissaries—call them stores if you like—for that purpose, located where they will be most efficient.

Boice Answers Wilkie Relative

Mr. Emil Wickman, Laguna Beach, Calif.

Dear Sir:

Since your name was signed to a statement of Capt. Don Wilkie's, appearing in the press several days ago, addressed to me, I suppose this reply should be addressed to you, although the material in this statement was so identical with the familiar Wilkie radio fiction that it seems silly to pretend that anyone else wrote it.

However, we will pretend you wrote it. I will answer it, but not with any waste of time or words, I assure you. First, I wish to say that I am glad to note that you acknowledge Mr. Wilkie to be a carpet-bagger.

You point out that a Hollywood movie studio hired you—I mean Wilkie, to give expert advice regarding a crime picture. And did not employ Sheriff Jackson.

Are you sure of that? I mean the reason Wilkie was hired? Or have you just been listening to his radio speeches? And have you forgotten your—I mean Wilkie's sworn testimony at his bankruptcy proceedings, where he testified that Cecil DeMille hired him to do some detective work—not give expert advice about a crime picture.

And, of course, they wouldn't hire Logan Jackson for that kind of a job. They couldn't hire him. Because he doesn't peek over hotel transoms.

Also I note that you are bragging again about your CWA job—beg pardon, I keep forgetting. I mean you, Mr. Wickman, are repeating Mr. Wilkie's claim that he was the big shot of the CWA investigation in Los Angeles. "He got nine indictments," you stated.

Haw, Haw! Excuse me for laughing, Mr. Wilkie. I just got to thinking about what one of the actual big shots of that affair said about Wilkie's claims. Honestly, Mr. Wickman, you've been listening to the wrong radio talks. You ought to tune in on the good ones. Anyway, it only shows that a party ought to be careful what he tells. And you, Mr. Wickman, ought to be careful what you swallow.

About those false arrest suits, Mr. Wickman. I'm afraid you are worrying about them more than Sheriff Jackson is. You know it costs only $7 to file a suit for false arrest. And it doesn't cost anything to dismiss them—after the election. And that makes me think—I'd like to ask your opinion about it—do you think, Mr. Wickman, that maybe somebody was just a little interested in seeing that false arrest suits were filed against the sheriff at this time? You know, one of those little "directing and organizing jobs" like, well, say the CWA investigation.

And do you know, too, Mr. Wickman, that all those false arrest suits, with only one exception, were based upon arrests made by Sheriff Jackson's ex-deputies, all of whom are now out letting it for Captain Wilkie, the non-political sheriff? Ain't politics grand, Mr. Wickman?

Your statement, Mr. Wickman, also says something about economy. I know that you meant some kind of a dirty dig at the sheriff when you mentioned $38,000, but your point was so subtle that I missed it. I could get it. Went clear over my head. So I'll have to pass that one.

As to the rest of your statement. It is good stuff, if one likes trips. Personally, if I was a candidate for sheriff, I'd wait until the vote was counted before I took office. But I suppose a man with a big imagination can imagine anything. Even thirty years in the secret service, Mr. Wickman, you are just going to have to stop listening to that fellow. I want you to promise me that you will.

Your anxious correspondent, A. C. BOICE, Orange, Cal.

P. S.—Anxious about you, Mr. Wickman, not the sheriff.—ACB.

MERCHANTS TO DISCUSS PLANS FOR CHRISTMAS

Plans for staging a general meeting of all merchants in the city next week to discuss Christmas merchandising and promotional activities during the Christmas season were announced today by Howard I. Wood, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce following a meeting of the board of directors yesterday.

Also starting next week, Secretary Wood will conduct a series of meetings of all the various classifications of business in the city, starting with clothing. These meetings will be held to discuss ways and means to improve business conditions, to better serve the public and find out just what the public wants in the way of merchandising service.

The directors yesterday voted to furnish another cup to be presented to the school winning the fire prevention contest to be staged next year under the direction of John Henderson, chairman of the fire prevention committee.

Members of the board commented Henderson highly on the efficient manner in which he has been handling the fire prevention program here. Henderson has been made an honorary assistant state fire marshal for his efficient work, and has been given a handsome badge by Jay Stevens, state fire marshal.

Ray Goodcell was appointed chairman of the new convention committee of the chamber, and is to name his own committee members to aid him in convention work.

Secretary Wood announced that Leonard Read, western manager of the United States Chamber of Commerce, will be the speaker at a luncheon meeting here on November 22 to which the public will be invited.

A committee comprised of C. H. Chapman as chairman and R. B. Newcom and Carl Mock was appointed to aid the Paxton Nailing Machine company in plans for expansion of their industry here.

ASSERTS STATE HAS CHANCE TO SAVE NATION

In all of California's illustrious history the state never faced a greater crisis or a greater opportunity than that of November 5, when the voters of this commonwealth will decide whether they want a continuation of self government, or whether they will surrender to communistic Moscow control, and thus permit the entering wedge that might well destroy the nation. Whether the great state of California will approve of individual initiative, private determination, freedom of religious worship, continued operation of the public school system, or surrender every vestige of Americanism to the destructive influences as promulgated by Upton Sinclair, the man who has preached revolution and iconoclasm for the past quarter of a century, without one constructive suggestion to his credit.

He offers himself as a disciple of communism, and sings the praises of the Russian government. There isn't a thing in American life, either public or private, that meets the approval of Sinclair, yet he solicits your vote for his program of ruin.

As against this sort of government there is offered to the people of California a man with a lifetime of experience, both in business and public affairs; grounded in the faith of our national independence, and whose patriotism stood the test in the recent effort of the Moscow government to capture control. That man is Frank F. Merriam, our present governor, whose determined stand for law and order, and protection to private property and institutions, clearly defined him as having been tried, and in no sense a disappointment.

November 6 means more to the people of the United States than a state election in California. If communism wins in this commonwealth it will become the headquarters for a national "putsch" to wipe out all political parties and substitute the Soviet state of America. It will mean the utter destruction of everything that has made America the greatest democracy in the world, and no voter who loves his country can afford to approach this issue carelessly or uninformed.

It is not a political issue. It is not a question as to whether

Sinclair's Success At Polls Would Not Mean The Success Of His Plan

By J. P. BAUMGARTNER

Sometimes there is ultimate failure in temporary success, or fundamental failure in surface or apparent success. It would be so in the election of Sinclair—a bitter disappointment to those who believe in his promises. His election would carry with it all the evils of an unbalanced, impractical and impotent state government, torn by political strife, with business paralyzed by uncertainty and fear. He and his followers would move heaven and earth, so to speak, to carry out his EPIC plan and program, resulting in chaotic political, social and economic conditions, with none of its promised benefits. For, even if his plan were possibly feasible, he could not carry it out.

To do so would require the approval of at least a MAJORITY of the voters of the state—if not a two-thirds majority,—for large bond issues would have to be floated and other things done which would require the approval of the MAJORITY of the voters.

Even a brief study of the figures involved shows this would be impossible, and proves that there is no possible hope for adoption of the EPIC plan, even if Sinclair should be elected governor. Anyone who votes for Sinclair, therefore, must vote for him to become the administrator of the state government without any hope that his EPIC plan could be put into effect.

There are approximately 3,062,000 registered voters in California. Only fifteen per cent of this number—or 450,000—voted for Sinclair at the primary election.

It would take at least four times Sinclair's primary vote to assure him of the support of the MAJORITY of people in California, and such an increase is obviously out of the question.

Now let's do a little supposing:

Suppose a 60 per cent vote is cast at the general election on November 6, giving a total vote of 1,837,200.

Now, suppose Sinclair gets 40 per cent of the votes cast, or 734,880; Merriam gets 35 per cent of the votes cast, or 643,020; and Haight gets 25 per cent of votes cast, or 459,300.

If such were to happen, Sinclair would be elected governor by less than 25 per cent of the qualified electors of the state, being outnumbered by the anti-Sinclair forces by three to one.

Such a situation would be disastrous. It would give us a governor elected by one-fourth of the people, whose hands would be tied by the opposition of the remaining 75 per cent of the people.

He could not even start his EPIC plan for the overwhelming majority of the public would be against it.

He could not relieve poverty which his followers hope. He would only increase the number of poverty-stricken people in California, attracted here in the vain hope aroused by his election, who would have to share the inadequate relief funds and reduce the allotments to the jobless and destitute already here.

With a helpless and ineffective governor at Sacramento, we would have Sinclair, admittedly not talented for the job, and some of his opportunist job-hunters, BUT WITH NONE OF THE SO-CALLED BENEFITS WITH WHICH THE SINCLAIR FOLLOWERS HAVE BEEN DELUDED.

Business would stagnate, industry would slow down, additional men would be thrown out of employment, and the "End Poverty" crusade would bring about Enduring Poverty until, by recall or expiration of his term, the impediment were removed and things brought to an even keel once more.

GARDEN SECTION HEARS INSTRUCTOR

THIS CHANGE gives Children a Chance

Avoid the mistake made by so many parents in treating children.

If your girl or boy is occasionally upset or ailing, why not make the "liquid test" described here?

Perhaps you have tried all sorts of ways to keep a child's bowels in proper condition, and failed.

Yet, a child who has been convalescing in a hospital, will usually come out with bowels working like a well-regulated watch.

The average mother gives any laxative the family may be using, while doctors give children a liquid laxative of suitable ingredients, suitable strength, and in suitable amount.

Try This Way:

Avoid all use of mineral drugs, whether they are salts, pills, tablets, or "candy" form. Even once a month is too often to give any child a cathartic strong enough for adults. Use a liquid laxative containing senna (a natural laxative). California Syrup of Figs has the right amount for children's use, and this rich, fruity syrup does not upset a child's system.

Give that headachy or bilious child a little of this gentle laxative when constipated, and a little less if dose is repeated until bowels seem to be moving regularly and thoroughly of their own accord.

Doctors Say This:

A liquid laxative is safest for children of any age, because the dose can be regulated, and its action controlled. It is not wise to give a laxative of adult strength to a child, just because you give it less often or in less amounts. Stomach upsets and bowel troubles of growing boys and girls can often be traced to this mistake.

When you change to pure California Syrup of Figs instead of harsh medicines, you risk no more violence to your child's appetite, digestion, and general physical condition. You'll have a safer, more satisfactory result, too. Those little upsets and complaints just disappear as a rule and the child is soon normal again. Try it!

THE "LIQUID TEST"

This is the way to relieve occasional sluggishness, or constipation in a child of any age:

First: select a liquid laxative of the proper strength for children. Second: give the dose suited to the child's age, and condition. Third: reduce the dose, if repeated, until the bowels are moving without any help at all.

An ideal laxative for this purpose is California Syrup of Figs which every druggist keeps in stock. Be certain that it is the genuine product, with "California" blown in the bottle.

✓ Your throat protection—against irritation—against cough

By HARRY GRAYSON

CHICAGO—Robert C. Zupke, a game that puzzled those with-out a thorough understanding of the rules.

Reynold threw a pass into the arms of an Ohio State man in the end zone on third down. The Buckeyes immediately downed it—that is, the ball was brought out to the 20-yard mark. Many believed it should have been a safety, counting two points for Illinois.

However, since the pass was intercepted, Illinois lost possession. Catching the ball behind the goal line, the Ohio State back had two options, either to down the ball in the end zone and have it called a touchback, or to run out with it. If he were downed before he crossed into the field of play, it would still be a touchback. If he got out of the end zone, the ball would go into play at whatever point he was downed.

It could not be a safety at any time, since the impetus which sent the ball back behind the goal line was provided by Illinois and not Ohio State.

THEY EVEN DRIBBLED

Kyle Anderson, Chicago scout, states the following:

"The Illinois and Buckeyes did everything but dribble, relates one observer."

"And for his information, members of both teams did that very thing on a couple of passes. Only officials saw it."

"Just imagine this: The Illinois ball in play on Ohio State's 25-yard line, six men huddled it, and it finally wound up with an end making an easy catch in the end zone for a touchdown."

"The various scouting expeditions had to compare notes to see what did what. As near as we could determine, the center passed the ball to the fullback, who made a short backward toss to one of the halfbacks."

"Back No. 2 wheeled a step or two and threw the ball about 15 feet on a lateral to Back No. 3. This young man heaved it in the opposite direction to Back No. 4, back Beynon. The latter looked around, took aim, and dropped the ball into the arms of Dykstra for a touchdown."

"What was Ohio State doing all this time? Probably what everyone else was—watching to see what would happen next."

GOLF PROFESSIONALS GREEDY

Class B Players To Divide $5000 Purse At Miami

ACES DISGRUNTLED, ASK ALL

BY HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Some of the sharpest say the Mexican honey bear is the greediest of all animals. Others vote for the broad-headed beaver. Still others lean toward the striped gazelle whose habitat is somewhere east of Suez.

My own ballot, however, goes to none of these, but to the top-hand golf professionals who have voiced disfavor, disapproval, dissatisfaction and a couple of other diseases, over the Miami-Biltmore plan to divide the swag of its annual $10,000 open tournament.

Officials of the tournament, as you doubtless know, have proposed to split the field into two groups, A and B. Group A will be composed of the first 20 finishers in the last National Open, and the 64 gentlemen who qualified for match play in the P.G.A. tournament. Which means that Group A will contain the pros who have won 99 per cent of all the golfing pots for the past five years. They will shoot for $5000.

The other $5000 will serve as prize money for Group B. In Group B the Biltmore officials hope to enroll the forgotten men of golf—those pros and assistant pros who stick to their clubs the year round, giving lessons, fashioning brassies and drivers, and tending their shops. There are hundreds of such men scattered about the country, and the Biltmore Open officials believe they would welcome—and deserve—a chance to shoot for serious money against their own kind.

The forgotten men rarely get a crack at tournaments offering anything more than hair cut money. They could enter major tournaments, to be sure, but they'd have about as much chance of grabbing anything as Freddie the ice man. Opened to them would be the usual 25 or 40 red-hot, with games whetted to razor edge by continual competitive play. If the Biltmore plan goes through, they'll be able to tee off for five grand against players of equal caliber.

The same pros, as we said earlier, are agin' the idea. It cuts into their dough. It will bring new names and new faces into a field they have come to consider their own private business. It is to be hoped that the Biltmore goes right ahead with the idea. The pro business needs new names and new faces. It's becoming a bit tiresome to see the same guys winning the same tournaments all the time. If it isn't Runyan it's Laffoon. If it isn't Runyan or

ROCKEY CHOICE OVER SAUCEDO IN GO TONIGHT

Boxing returns to its place among district sports tonight when the Orange County Athletic club reopens after two weeks of darkness. Last Thursday's rainstorm interrupted a string of 28 successive amateur fistic programs at Promoter Sam Sampson's highway arena.

To celebrate the occasion, and the club's new $2800 canvas roof, Matchmaker "Bud" Rutledge has scheduled a 12-bout card that includes the customary double main event.

Paul Saucedo, popular Anaheim Mexican lightweight, jumps into the top class in one of the feature spots. Months of faithful effort in the preliminaries find Saucedo in a windup at last, his rival being one of the toughest boys in the amateur ranks—Jack Rockey, the "unwounded champion" from Beach. Rockey is slightly favored, although Saucedo was officially designated as Southern California's No. 1 lightweight in the Southern Pacific A. A. C. lists released last week by Inspector Tom Cox.

The first main event pairs Jo-Jo Veney of Chicago and Walter Baltz of Bell for a rematch. Baltz, victorious in a knock-down-and-drag-out altercation with Veney several weeks ago, is picked to repeat against the former Golden Gloves titleholder.

In the semi-final are Frankie Oberlin, hard-hitting Santa Ana college boy, and Frank Pfau, representing the Italian Boxing club of Los Angeles. They're scaled at 128 pounds.

Wilmington's stable of amateur boxers will have one side of the lineup, with Santa Ana, Anaheim, Bell and Long Beach boys dividing the work in the other corner. The preliminaries:

Ray Oda, Long Beach, vs. Tony Cruz, Wilmington, 148 pounds; Tim Munoz, Anaheim, vs. Walter Brown, Los Angeles, 150 pounds; "Baby Face" Romero, Wilmington, vs. Vic Orozco, Santa Ana, 135 pounds;

Art Anderson, Long Beach, vs. Babe Rowles, Placentia, 118 pounds; Miller Fonseca, Long Beach, vs. Eddie Martinez, Wilmington, 135 pounds;

Tony Segobia, Wilmington, vs. Paul Brown, Santa Ana, 130 pounds; Jesse Sharkey, Long Beach, vs. John Orozco, Santa Ana, 125 pounds; Jack Taylor, Anaheim, vs. Jack Knaub, Bell, 140 pounds;

Owen Williams, Huntington Beach, vs. Benny Lyman, Bell, 141 pounds.

BY JACK CUDDY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—"Dizzy" Dean, Fanchon and Marco dancing and "Duffy" Dean, world series pitching heroes of the St. Louis Cardinals, make the first stage appearance of their goofy careers tomorrow at the Roxy theater, and a thespian named Ford Bond will be their victim.

Mr. Bond is the unfortunate selected to act as master of ceremonies during the one week of the Deans' personal appearance on Broadway. Mr. Bond, who has rehearsed a long script, is supposed to be asked certain questions, chief of which, "Dizzy," regarding baseball and the Cardinals' triumph over the Detroit Tigers in the world series.

Unfortunately for Mr. Bond, it is well known in baseball circles that "Dizzy" Dean—who built a bonfire on the diamond to warm his hands in mid-August—never follows any script. The great "Dizzy" is one of the most accomplished ad lib artists who ever hit the main stem. There's no telling what "Dizzy" will reply to Mr. Bond's questions. This will cause Mr. Bond to miss his cues, and the skit director fears that Mr. Bond will not know what to ask next.

Dons Shift Anderson, Mitchell For Citrus

Under a new arrangement, Coaches Cook and Blanchard Beatty have transferred Anderson to quarterback and Mitchell to fullback. Mitchell formerly played quarter, Anderson full.

When Bruce Harnois, surprise of the past two weeks, enters the game at safety, Anderson will shift back to his old position at fullback. When Dick Moore is at full, Mitchell will return to his safety position.

Ordered out of practice by the team physician, Ben Slavin will be lost to the Dons at left end Saturday. He has two infected legs. Fortunately, Santa Ana has a suitable replacement in Kroenke, who rates with Slavin as one of the best wingmen in the conference.

Shellenback To Lead Hollywood; Vitt Out

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.—(UP)—Hollywood was given a new managerial deal for the 1935 season today by the appointment of Frank Shellenback, veteran spitball pitcher, to succeed Oscar Vitt.

Whether Vitt resigned or was ousted by Owner W. H. Lane remained undetermined. Although Lane said his manager quit on his own volition, other baseball sources said the resignation was requested by Lane.

Vitt had served under Lane for some ten years. The magnate purchased him for $6000 from the Boston Americans to play third base for the old Salt Lake club, then in the Coast league. Later Vitt managed the club and took over the helm for Hollywood when it acquired a franchise. As leader of the Sheiks, he was popular here and had developed many strong teams.

Shellenback is a mainstay of Hollywood's hurling staff. One of the few spitballers left in organized baseball, he was the most reliable pitcher on the roster last season.

VITT BLAMES DEPRESSION
OAKLAND, Oct. 25.—(UP)—Oscar Vitt, dismissed as manager of the Hollywood team in the Pacific Coast league, attributed his discharge today to poor gate receipts.

"The depression caught up with the boys, I guess," Vitt said. "They told me that they weren't making much money and would have to dismiss me. So what could I do? I sent in my resignation."

Vitt became manager of the Hollywood team in 1925 when Owner Bill Lane moved the team to the movie capital from Salt Lake City. Under Vitt's guidance the team won the pennant in 1929 and 1930 and lost in a play-off with the San Francisco Seals in 1931. In the last several seasons the team always has finished among the first three, taking third in the first half of the 1934 race and second in the second-half of the split seasons.

"I'm not through managing teams," the veteran said. "I'm looking around right now for another job. By warning me in advance, Lane did me a favor. I'll go to the minor league meetings here and in Louisville and see what I can land."

Cole will start with Teter and Forbes at ends; Benson and Summerset, tackles; Shields and McMichael, guards; Spray, center; Ulrich and Richards, halves; Skidmore, full; and Francis, quarter. Coach Ralph Reed probably will use Merrick and Sine, ends; Hanson and Sutherland, tackles; Foster and Arnold, guards; Pilkinton, center; Grechner, quarter; Twiss and Phoenix, halves; Irwin, full.

ANAHEIM — Anaheim's undefeated Colonists tangle with the Valencia Cougars, baby member of the Orange County League, at Placentia tomorrow.

The game will be the renewal of athletic rivalries between their respective coaches. Southern conference graduates, Bishop, Valencia mentor, did his chores for Pomona, opposing "Trippy" Dick Glover, Anaheim, regularly on the gridiron, basketball court and cinderpath at Oxy.

Bishop with a first-year aggregation can hardly hope to stop the smooth functioning Colonists who have trampled all opposition with their hard-running and wide-open aerial game. The battling Cougars hope to hold the Anaheim contingent to a low score, possibly to a one-touchdown margin.

With Harry Tanaka, hard-running Japanese flyweight, packing the ball Valencia will have a tough assignment to keep Anaheim from scoring. This youngster functions best behind the hard-blocking given him by his mates.

San Bernardino officials protested the action on the grounds that the three men were returning to their homes after an absence. They attended Modesto jaycee last year.

TROJAN SQUAD, 36 STRONG, ON SPECIAL TRAIN

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.—With a "Trojan Special" leading the way to Stanford tonight, a trek of 15,000 football followers, consisting of Southern California students and alumni, "Trojans by adoption," Palo Alto "grads" and just plain fans of no particular clan on the trail of a good football game, opens today in the Southland toward the San Francisco bay district.

As Coach Howard Jones and his squad of 36 lead the way northward for the S. C.-Stanford game in Palo Alto Saturday, gridiron fans prepare to follow by practically every means of locomotion, from trains, planes, boats and automobiles on down to hitch-hiking.

Six special trains already have been provided to carry fans from this vicinity tomorrow night. Two student specials have been chartered, leaving at 9 and 9:10. Three Trojan alumni specials will depart at 9:30, 9:40 and 9:50.

In addition, the second section of the Lark, leaving at 8:40, will be filled with a miscellaneous group of fans. The first section of the Lark at 8:30 p. m. will carry the Trojan freshman squad, which will meet the Stanford yearlings in a preliminary to the varsity game.

Arriving in Palo Alto between 10:30 and 11 a. m. Saturday, the trains will have fans there in time to see the freshman contest at 11:30.

Following the varsity game, the specials will continue on to San Francisco. The two student specials will start the return trip at 1 a. m. Sunday, while the alumni trains will leave at 1:30 a. m. and at 6:45 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. Sunday.

FULLERTON INDIANS SET FOR MONROVIA

FULLERTON, Oct. 25.—Having yet to score a touchdown in league competition, Coach Don Cruickshank's Fullerton Indians today ended a series of stiff workouts in preparation for the Monrovia contest here tomorrow afternoon.

The Indians will not be at full strength as Pershing Hodgson, blocking back, and Lou Herbst, center, are both out with injuries. They will have to be replaced by lighter inexperienced youngsters.

Monrovia is leading the foothill league after a 13 to 7 victory over Herbert Hoover of Glendale. In Monrovia, Fullerton faces the only undefeated-untied team in the circuit.

Has California Been Good To Me

By CHARLES F. RIESNER
Motion Picture Director

Time, as he grows old, teaches many lessons. The year was 1886. The place was St. Paul, Minnesota. The setting, a combination dining-room and kitchen in a workman's home. Outside, a cold wintry night. Inside, a warm fire from the kitchen stove. A kerosene table-lamp, illuminating time-tables, maps and pamphlets, extolling the virtues of California.

A happy husband is reading, Paul, but had no choice in the matter.

"Earth out here in California is so kind, that just tickle her with a hoe, and she laughs back with a harvest."

They laugh with sheer joy in anticipation of the new land—their new home. Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm—and to say they were enthusiastic is putting it mildly. Santa Ana was the town they had decided on. First, because the man's wife's name was Ana—and secondly, because she was like a Santa to him—sympathetic—a good mother to his four little children. It was she who had encouraged him to leave all behind in the old country and come to America. She understood him—the mothered him—and he knew man's greatest possession was a sympathetic wife.

The time was approaching for their departure. Several more days—then on to California, the land of their dreams.

Death Delays

Then, what we least expect, generally happens! The youngest child became suddenly ill. A doctor was called—but the baby kept getting worse. No money was spared. The day of their departure had already passed alone. Then one grey cold morning, the terrible thing happened. The little child passed on. That was a dreary day for those two young people in a strange land. But they consoled themselves with the thought that nothing happens to anybody which is not fitted by nature to bear. But it was impossible to go to California now. They couldn't bear the thought of leaving behind them that little plot of ground where peacefully rested the last remains of their darling baby boy. They felt bound to this place forever. The young wife decided it was best. The young husband granted her wish. He went back for his job which only a week before he had given up, but he was too late. The vacancy had already been filled by another. He was like a man waking up out of a nightmare. "Be patient"—were the words of wisdom from his wife. Patience is the best remedy for any trouble. Again he was glad to follow her advice.

Then one day came a friend with glad tidings. Work had been secured for the husband in Minneapolis—a city 10 miles distant. They disliked leaving St.

OUTLINE GIVEN PASTOR POINTS OF NEW TOMATO WORLD NEED OF PRORATE PLAN SERVICE IDEAL

The prorate on tomatoes, established by the California Prorate commission on ripe and pink tomatoes sent to the Los Angeles market was explained today by Assistant Farm Advisor E. E. Eastman, who pointed out that canning and shipping tomatoes are excluded.

The prorate area includes all Southern California counties from and including San Luis Obispo county, Eastman said.

A committee of five growers, one shipper and one handler will function as the prorate committee. Mr. Shepley of Los Angeles is market agent, with Mr. Kato, also of Los Angeles, as his assistant.

These officials have offices in room 207 Produce Terminal building at 1057 South San Pedro street, Los Angeles.

The zone agent for Orange county is Charles W. Musser, who lives at the corner of Chapman and Dale streets, one mile north and two and one-half miles west of Garden Grove.

The prorate will go into effect on October 28. All tomato growers and handlers who will put fruit on the market at that time are required to have prorate labels affixed to each container of tomatoes offered for sale, Eastman said.

"These labels may be secured from Musser or Mr. Shepley at one and one-half cents each. Each grower who expects to market fruit must pay a preliminary fee of 25 cents per acre to either Musser or Shepley."

"Growers who desire to contact Musser may do so either at his home or by leaving a message at the farm advisor's office. Musser will turn into the prorate committee each week the proposed quantity of tomatoes available for market the following week. The committee will assemble data from all zone agents, from which the quantity to be prorated will be deducted."

"The object of prorate is to establish orderly marketing. It has been found in the cases of other district prorates so far established that more produce is annually marketed at a higher price than under the previously uncontrolled market, where large surpluses one day may depress the market for several days subsequently."

DATA ON CRIME PRESENTED AT CLUB SESSION

YORBA LINDA, Oct. 25.—Talks on crime and the administration of a sheriff's office were given the Yorba Linda Women's club this week by Don Wilkie, candidate for sheriff, and Russell Lutes, of the sheriff's office. Wilkie discussed the present trend of crime, and was followed on the program by Lutes, who discussed modern means of detecting criminals.

According to Wilkie, the present trend of crime is accentuated by corrupt politics. Much organized crime, he said, has behind it political graft. Only six per cent of the criminals caught are punished, he pointed out. A point worthy of consideration, he added, is that the average age of the criminal is about 23 years at the present time.

Mrs. C. E. Simmons introduced Lutes, who gave an interesting resume of the methods used in the office of sheriff of this county. Lutes outlined many of the modern devices for catching law breakers and told of the working organization of an office of law enforcement.

Mrs. J. F. Nittell presided at the meeting. Robert Seams of Fullerton presented two Boy Scouts, Charles Seama of Fullerton and Ernest Jarvis. Young Seama discussed Scouting from the standpoint of youth, and Jarvis discussed the Scouting program from the viewpoint of an adult.

Mrs. A. J. Moritz and Mrs. A. S. Walker were appointed as a committee to assist in organizing and assisting in Scout work. The contest was announced for Friday and the first meeting of the garden section will be held at the home of Miss Marsha Vernon on November 2.

LISTS SERMON TOPICS

MIDWAY CITY, Oct. 25.—Sermon topics for the Midway City Community church for next Sunday evening were announced today by the pastor, the Rev. Clifford Jones, at 11 a. m. He will talk on "The Glory Which Is to Be," and at 7:30 p. m. on "The Challenge of Jesus to the Men of Today."

Choir practice will be held at 5 o'clock with a social hour following and Christian Endeavor at 6:30 o'clock.

Improvement to the city. He helped build Laguna from a small isolated place of 200 population, 13 years ago, to the thriving little town it is now. Recently, when a crowd of his friends persuaded him to run on the non-partisan ticket for supervisor of the Fifth district, he at first declined, but when his friends urged him because they knew he had facts at his fingertips and facts are stubborn things, he finally consented—saying he hoped he could fill the place to the satisfaction of all. It's not the places that grace men—but men the places.

FULLERTON, Oct. 25.—Declared that the battle of the ages, as it has been waged on one front or another, is the battle of supplanting the ideal of power with the ideal of service, Dr. George Warner, pastor of the First M. E. church of Santa Ana, spoke at the local Methodist church last night.

This is not accomplished through one quick action, but by a process of everlastingly challenging things as they are, and gaining victory through production of highest human values, he said. His topic was "The Tyranny of Immediacy."

Dr. Roy L. Smith will again preach tonight at the church. His topic is to be "Starved Souls." The Bible picture from which Dr. Warner drew his subject included events in the last week of the life of Christ. He first pictured the triumphal march into Jerusalem, then the agony of Gethsemane, where Christ made his decision, and followed that with the picture of the crowd as it permitted His crucifixion.

He said the battle of the ages was worked out in the soul of Christ that week; he continued to point out that Christ's decision, to endure the cross and accept the immediate glory with the crowds backing Him, is typical of the secret of great living.

"Christ never expressed the idea that the Kingdom of God would be brought in through compulsion," he said, but indicated by word and deed it would be brought in by impulsion, and that Kingdom is based on three principles: First, it comes as a gift; second, it comes as a living; and third, it comes as a love.

He concluded that God does not ask the individual to live with Him as a child, satisfied with little victories, but does ask that he reach up and go out into the world with Him, taking His plan, and His mind, and His purpose, and make it operative in civilization.

This is brought about by challenging things as they are, and attempting to produce the highest human values, he said.

Mrs. Warner sang a solo preceding the sermon.

Plan Hallowe'en Party Tomorrow

ANAHEIM PLANS FOR REPUBLICAN RALLY

ANAHEIM, Oct. 25.—Plans have been announced for a Republican dinner and rally to be held tomorrow night at Marigold cafe. The dinner will start at 6:30 p. m. and will feature Edward Trefz as the speaker.

This rally is expected to complete plans for organization of the Republican vote as well as that of Democrats who have pledged their support to the candidacy of Frank F. Merriam for election as governor.

In his talk Trefz is expected to bring before his audience a picture of the present situation in the state and to reveal the picture painted by Upton Sinclair, Democratic candidate. It is said that he will make a special appeal to ranchers and property owners for support of the Republican candidate.

Tuffree Shows Island Pictures

FULLERTON, Oct. 25.—John C. Tuffree, of Placentia, showed pictures he had taken in the Orient and in the South Sea Islands when he was guest speaker at the weekly meeting of Fullerton 20-30 club at El Patio cafe Wednesday night.

Dr. Charles Rapp presided at the meeting. Two new members were accepted, Harold Kryder and Bill Grafton.

Further arrangements for the inter-club banquet to be held November 19 at the cafe were discussed. The 20-30 club, Kiwanis, Rotarians and Business and Professional Women's club are joining in the meeting.

Drug Firm Loses Case; Ordered To Vacate Quarters

Mrs. Louise Kelley was granted judgment against Kelley Drug Co. of Santa Ana at hearing of her suit in superior court yesterday to eject the drug concern from the premises it occupies at 108 West Fourth street, it lease there having terminated September 1, it was claimed.

The judgment included damages at the rate of $250 per month since September 1, such damages to be trebled.

The plaintiff alleged that the lease was executed June 1.

VANDERMASTS BACK FROM EASTERN TRIP

Returning this week from a three weeks' eastern trip, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vandermast, 416 South Main street, brought a more encouraging report from some of the states which they visited, particularly in drought-affected sections of Kansas, where late summer rains, while not in time to save crops, yet were proving invaluable in reclamation of land.

The Santa Anas went east by train, stopping in Waco, Texas, to visit Mrs. Vandermast's cousin, Dr. William Y. Herick. They found that cousins in that section, whose land usually produces approximately 60 bushels of corn to the acre, felt that they had achieved success this year with a yield of a dozen bushels per acre.

In Chicago where Mr. and Mrs. Vandermast attended the exposition, they took delivery on a new car for a Santa Ana friend, and completed their trip by automobile. They visited Mrs. Vandermast's home in northern Illinois, where they saw many of her cousins and visited the house in which she was born. The homeward trip was made by St. Louis, Memphis, the Ozark country, Dallas and Fort Worth in Texas, and Phoenix, Rice and cotton fields of the south were especially interesting to the travelers.

The moving program will be done under SERRA work relief project, approved by the county SERRA committee.

SERRA OFFICES TO BE MOVED TO LARGE BUILDING

Orange county SERRA offices and headquarters will be transferred from present quarters in the Hill building on Fourth street to more commodious quarters in the building at Second and Broadway streets formerly occupied by Montgomery Ward and Company store, it was announced today by Terrence Halloran, director of the county SERRA project.

The entire building, including lower and upper floors of the building at Second and Broadway will be occupied by the SERRA offices, it was learned. Partitions will be constructed on the lower floor for office rooms and the entire building will be cleaned and in shape for the removal, which is expected to take place November 1.

The move was made necessary because of cramped quarters in the Hill building, Halloran said. The intake on case work has increased to such an extent that interviews are hampered and there is a continual crowded and confused condition, it was stated.

An agreement has been signed between the owners of the building at Second and Broadway, the Santa Ana Development company, and SERRA officials. SERRA has been paying $155 a month for the quarters in the Hill building, and the new and more commodious quarters will be leased for $150 a month, Halloran pointed out.

That the figure which the new building is being obtained for is in no sense indicative of the value of the building for a commercial establishment and that the owners made liberal concessions because of the nature of the relief work to be conducted by SERRA in the quarters.

The moving program will be done under SERRA work relief project, approved by the county SERRA committee.

"Sleepers East" is the story of the adventure of a young woman out on parole, who is the only witness to a murder in which a man is being railroaded to prison as a political move. Both sides try to get her to aid them and the complications are many. A novelty, "Bosom Friends," completes the program.

HARRY KUTLER, Mgr. 112 E. 4th Street Santa Ana

U. S. OFFICER GIVES FACTS ABOUT WILKIE

Presenting the record of Captain Don Wilkie, candidate for sheriff, Richard H. Taylor, of Los Angeles, former division chief of the United States secret service, spoke last night from KREB on his personal experiences and knowledge of Wilkie.

Taylor prefaced his remarks with a resume of his own service with the government immigration department as chief investigator and in the secret service. He declared that Wilkie, one of his fellow officers, was being persecuted by politicians who were seeking to tear down his federal record for political purposes and voters needed facts on the situation.

Taylor said he had come to Orange county to speak with authority on Wilkie's record. He praised the regime of Wilkie's father as head of the secret service and spoke of his successful elimination of political domination in the service.

"I want you voters to know that your candidate for sheriff of Orange county, Captain Don Wilkie, his son, inherited and gathered much of the knowledge that has made him one of the leading authorities on crime in the United States, as well as a shrewd and expert detective and an ace-high law enforcement officer. . . . You must remember that he is not known alone in Orange county. His outstanding work as a federal law enforcement officer, in various branches, is favorably known over the entire world.

Knows Qualifications

"I have seen Wilkie at work and I know his qualifications and unusual intelligence," Taylor said. "At the same time that I had charge of the port of New York for naval intelligence during the World War, this same Captain Don Wilkie was doing gallant work overseas for naval intelligence, and I do not hesitate to state here and now that much of the success of the work at that port was due in a large extent to Captain Wilkie's splendid overseas service. The lives of thousands upon thousands of our troops being transported from New York to overseas service depended on naval intelligence, and without exaggeration, I can state that great convoys of soldiers were saved largely through the never-to-be-forgotten work of Don Wilkie.

"Orange county should feel itself extremely fortunate in having such a man at the helm of its chief law enforcement office. On the basis of qualifications, and that is what counts most, you could comb the entire United States and not find a man, for any amount of money, any better qualified or equipped to make you the best sheriff you ever had. He has spent his life in law enforcement, crime prevention and crime detection. He is bringing to Orange county a wealth of practical experience and training that money could not buy."

Taylor sketched Wilkie's record with the government, starting with his first federal appointment in 1904 as a special agent in the secret service of the customs bureau.

"I'll wager that if 'Teddy' Roosevelt was with us today he would lose no time in coming to the defense of Don Wilkie, because he regarded him highly and in more than one instance had occasion to commend him highly for valuable government services," the speaker said. "I was in the United States secret service when Don Wilkie was appointed and I recall him being an operative in that service during 1907, 1908, and nearly all of 1909. He was then detached from Secret Service to work on government land fraud cases, a function outside the jurisdiction of the Secret Service.

Highly Commended
"In all his work he served with distinction and was highly commended by his superior officers. He was later attached to the treasury department to do important secret service work, and at the beginning of the World war, because of his rare intelligence and unusual ability as an officer, he was attached to the United States Naval Intelligence in which he served overseas with a gallant record of which I have already mentioned.

"While overseas he was offered the post of naval attaché to the American embassy in Paris, which he declined because, like all the rest of the boys, he wanted to return home. Almost immediately following the war, he served as a special investigator in Chicago, which resulted in the government's relentless drive against the gangster. It was in 1924 that he was first commissioned a captain in military intelligence, ORC. This commission was given by the president of the United States as a reward for his gallant service to his country. He has held a commission continuously since that time. I mention this item because I have heard that there has been some question as to his title and I am anxious to clear it up for once and for all.

"Surely all of you have heard of his patriotic fight, as chief of the Intelligence Unit of the CWA, to clean up that mess and bring the grafters to justice in the general courts. He had to battle the politicians then, too, but he went at it with all the vigor and determination that his good, red American blood demanded. His life was threatened more than once by the underworld, he was lambasted from all sides by the politicians whose gray train he had side tracked, but those of us who know Don Wilkie just laughed at that, because we know that Don Wilkie will fight for what is right. We know there are no weak spots in his makeup, we know he has never been known to take water, we know he would deliver the goods—and he did.

Gets The Evidence
"We know that politicians can't handle him. We know that he will not be bossed by the political big shots. In the face of all the fire that politicians from certain quarters and of a certain stamp could muster, he went right through until he upset their applecart. Nine federal indictments are the answer to those who would belittle those efforts for his country."

"He has devoted his life thus far to his country. He has crus-saded for years over the radio and from the lecture platform against crime. He is as fine a citizen and public officer as any county could possibly hope to have and it puzzles me the things I have heard and read that have been released by misguided or misinformed people who certainly must not know his splendid record and his sterling character.

"His 21 years of government service, some full time and some part time—some with full pay and some with no pay at all—equip him to assure you of law enforcement and county protection of such high efficiency that you will look back and wonder how any man could have said anything unkind of him in the campaign."

Taylor referred to a recent radio talk by Otto Jacobs, Santa Ana attorney, who questioned Wilkie's record by referring to his statements of time spent as a salesman, printer, etc.

"Any man familiar with federal secret service work, department of justice work or other branch of government law enforcement, knows that it is not at all uncommon for an operative or an agent to become an insurance agent, or a stationary salesman, or even a gangster—if the cases he happens to be assigned to calls for such disguises.

Aids War On Gangsters
"Captain Wilkie was all those things, but he was an officer doing highly touchy work that only a trained and plucky secret service operative could do without being detected and very likely murdered by the suspicious gangsters. I don't suppose I have to tell you that the work done by Captain Wilkie—this self-same Don Wilkie who is now offering his services to you good people of Orange county as your sheriff—that work done by him in Chicago, assisted by other officers, was the forerunner of the government's relentless war on the gangster and the racketeer.

"There are many branches of government law enforcement service and when a man is borrowed from one branch by another, he automatically becomes a member of the latter department and goes on its payroll. When Captain Wilkie stated that he had had 21 years of government service, he told the gospel truth and it will take far more than Mr. Jacob's insinuations and clurs to break down that record.

"Don Wilkie was offered the highest rank in the United States naval reserve just this year and high honors of that nature are not dishonored by this government of ours without good reason. The naval reserve, appreciating the splendid service record of Captain Wilkie, and knowing his high efficiency and qualifications, offered him the rank of lieutenant commander in naval intelligence, the secret service of the United States navy.

"Do you realize just what that means? It most certainly goes to show what the United States thinks of this man—the same man that petty politicians have stooped to call a 'carpetbagger' and one not fitted to fill the sheriff's office of Orange county. Just think of the utter foolishness of it—a man carefully and thoroughly trained in every branch of federal law enforcement by the greatest officers the world has ever known—a man who has been highly commended by such authorities as

MELROSE ABBEY DEDICATION TO BE HELD SUNDAY

Melrose Abbey, Inc., reorganized with Bob Fernandez as president and W. T. Lambert, secretary and treasurer, will hold its official dedication of Melrose Abbey Mausoleum on 101 Highway, between Anaheim and Santa Ana, Sunday, October 28 at 2:30 p. m., it was announced today.

Taking over control of the beautiful mausoleum and Melrose Abbey, Inc., by Fernandez and Lambert was announced this week. Plans for the future also were announced.

Fernandez, the new president, is vice president of the Tiernan Typewriter company and has been in business in Santa Ana for a number of years. Lambert, a former Orange county newspaperman, now is county auditor.

The official dedication of Melrose Abbey on Sunday will mark completion of building and grounds of what is said to be one of the most beautiful mausoleums in the Southland and when entirely completed will represent an expenditure of more than half a million dollars.

The building has been furnished with beautiful furniture and other improvements and furnishings are planned which will make Melrose Abbey one of the outstanding mausoleums of the country, Lambert said.

The magnificent chapel provides for complete service away from noise and congestion of traffic. The crypts are not visible to those sitting in the chapel. A modern columbarium of the latest design and construction is being provided for niches. A complete assortment of urns is available.

The fine art glass windows are acknowledged by world travelers as work of art and comparable to any of their size in either America or the famed cathedrals of Europe.

The chapel is spacious and can accommodate several hundred persons, it being the largest chapel available in the county for burial services.

The crypts are constructed by the best known scientific methods and are the most modern in use by any mausoleum. Many prominent Orange county citizens already have made selections of crypts.

The official dedication ceremony Sunday will be open to the public, free of charge. The program, which will be announced later, will feature some of the best talent in Orange county. The chapel organ will be played by Pauline Graaf with Leah Pemberton, director.

Let's find out why Turkish tobacco is so important to a good cigarette

On the sunny slopes of Smyrna... in the fertile fields of Macedonia... along the shores of the Black Sea... grows a kind of tobacco that is different from any other tobacco in the world.

THESE Turkish tobaccos are the only tobaccos of foreign cultivation that are used to any great extent in making American cigarettes.

Turkish tobaccos are famous for their spicy aroma, and a blend of the right kinds of Turkish tobacco with our own home-grown tobaccos is better than any one kind used alone.

In Chesterfield we balance mild, ripe tobaccos grown in this country with just the right amounts of the right kinds of Turkish.

It is by blending and cross-blending these different tobaccos that we make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better.

Turkish tobacco hung in the open air to be cured.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep... Vigor... Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 miles of kidney tubes need washing out. The danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, hunched, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 8 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS... a doctor's prescription... which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS... the old reliable relief that contains no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-McBride Co.

WEATHER BUREAU MAY BE OPERATED HERE WITH S. A.
JUNIOR COLLEGE EQUIPMENT

Furthering a program for the establishment of an official weather bureau station in Santa Ana, arrangements were under way today by the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, in co-operation with the Santa Ana Junior college and the United States Weather bureau to establish such a station here, using equipment which already is available at the junior college, according to Howard L. Wood, secretary of the chamber, who launched the activity.

Woods contacted D. K. Hammond, president of the junior college and H. O. Russell, head of the physics department of the college, to aid in establishing the station. He learned that the junior college already is in possession of enough standard and recognized instruments to set up the weather bureau, and in fact, is anxious to do so.

Whether or not it will be advisable for the local weather bureau to be a part of the United States weather bureau is being considered by the chamber of commerce and junior college. Under government supervision, it was pointed out, it would be necessary to locate the instruments wherever the government officials wanted them situated, while the belief is that they should be located so that they should be comparable with those in other cities in Southern California.

In connection with the physics laboratory and with classes in meteorology, the junior college has acquired instruments for taking weather observations. At the present time the college has quite a complete set of the necessary instruments of good design and in good condition and so could set up quite a complete weather station and could with little expense for additional equipment take weather observations which will be more complete than those taken by any of the weather stations between San Diego and Los Angeles, according to Russell.

Services which could be rendered by the weather bureau station equipped with junior college instruments would include rainfall, maximum and minimum temperatures, complete record of the temperatures at any time during the day, complete record of the barometric pressure during the day, relative humidity and dew point at the times of observation, frost predictions, minimum temperature predictions, total wind movement during the day and the velocity at the time of observation, visibility and height of clouds, direction of the cloud movement. If a sunshine duration indicator was secured, it also would be possible to secure a record of the number of hours of sunshine and the percentage of possible sunshine.

Equipment which is available at the junior college now includes a recording thermometer, maximum and minimum thermometers, recording barometer, mercurial barometer, rain gauge, wind meter, relative humidity and dew point apparatus including sling psychrometers and other miscellaneous instruments for measuring barometric pressure, etc. They all could be used in an official weather bureau station if it was found to be desirable. Instruments which are needed to complete the setup are a wind direction indicator, sunshine duration indicator, instrument shelter and instrument support.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you feel sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Your skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware of substitutes. Read drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

OLIVE PASTOR
HEADS PACIFIC COAST GROUP

Officers were elected yesterday afternoon at the Sierra-Pacific conference of pastors of Lutheran churches in session at the St. John's Lutheran church in Orange as follows: president, the Rev. E. H. Kreidt of Olive; vice president, the Rev. O. C. Bode of Orange; secretary, the Rev. H. Tietjen of Monrovia; treasurer, the Rev. J. H. Heiserman of Pomona; and far equalizer, the Rev. George Theiss of Pasadena. The conference closed this afternoon.

REV. E. H. KREIDT

Yesterday's sessions were featured by a paper read by the Rev. Mr. Bode on "Acts 20." Gretings were extended to two retired pastors in Orange, the Rev. H. Groenow and the Rev. Phillip Dornstief. Pastor A. Kuntz of Alhambra, who recently finished his fiftieth year of ministry was presented with a scroll containing the names of pastors present and $50 in silver. The pastor has been in charge of Braille work for the blind for the Lutheran churches of the Missouri synod and has sent many Braille workers abroad. Two pastors welcomed yesterday were the Rev. E. J. P. Andrene, pastor emeritus of Los Angeles, and the Rev. W. Schlichting of Pasadena. The Rev. H. Tietjen read an exhortation paper on the 91st Psalm, making a comparison of the original text in Hebrew with the commonly accepted version.

A report was made by the head of the board of missions, the Rev. A. G. Webbeking of the Immanuel Lutheran church in which he stated that in the past six months four new mission workers and one student pastor had been placed in the field. One of these was the Rev. W. H. Klausermeyer, former Orange resident, who was placed at Yuma, Ariz., and who is in attendance at the sessions.

This afternoon E. E. Wunderlich, teacher in the St. John's parochial school, gave a demonstration of teaching music by sight reading. Last night a communion service was conducted with the Rev. George Theiss in charge of the confessional and the Rev. A. Kuntz in charge of the regular service. The Revs. William Schmoeck of Santa Ana and E. H. Kreidt of Olive were appointed to have charge of the program for the next session of the conference.

Court Notes

Delfeno Cordova was paroled from jail yesterday on a disturbing the peace charge, after he paid the $30 balance of his $60 fine.

Ernest Gracian, 35, Tustin, concluding a 15-day jail term for intoxication, was rebuked yesterday to serve another 15-day sentence.

In general charge of the exhibit and with the assistance of Mrs. Mary B. Robertson will catalogue all entries. At 2 p. m. Mrs. Snow will speak on the subject, "Early Days in Santa Ana and Orange County."

A small general admission charge is to be made.

REPTILE EXPERT IN NARROW ESCAPE AS RATTLESNAKE
STRIKES AT KIWANIS MEET

Deadly rattlesnakes met the fascinated gaze of Santa Ana Kiwanis yesterday afternoon in James' cafe as Otto Pachert of Modjeska canyon, who has studied habits of the dangerous reptiles for many years, exhibited several varieties of rattlers and poisonous insects while he discussed their habits and characteristics.

Puchert had a narrow escape and was visibly shaken when one of the deadly snakes struck at him and lodged its fangs in his trouser leg, missing his leg but a fraction of an inch, as he was giving a demonstration. He handled his snakes gingerly after that time.

The speaker called attention to the foolishness of people in keeping their medicine closets at home well stocked with first aid material and then going into the mountains a d hills without any kind of first aid kits and without ways to aid themselves or others if bitten by a poisonous reptile.

He told what to do in case a person is bitten by a poisonous snake. He said cuts should be made cross-wise over each place where the fang penetrated, that a tourniquet should be applied above the place bitten, that the person bitten should not get excited or run, but should get to a doctor as soon as possible. If the heart action gets slow, he said, a teaspoon of ammonia should be taken.

If a reptile is encountered, he said, a slow movement will avert being bitten. Snakes, he pointed out and demonstrated, will strike at an object which moves quickly, but they can be picked up and handled without great danger of being bitten if the movements are slow and not quick. No suffering can equal that which follows absorption of rattlesnake poison in the system, he said.

He exhibited black widow spiders. Bites from these poisonous insects are not deadly if first aid treatment is given at once, he said, but cutting the flesh where the mandibles entered. He said he had been bitten six times by the poisonous insects.

While a large and gruesome tarantula crawled over his hand, he explained that these insects are only mildly poisonous and will not bite except at an object which is moving quickly.

Don O. Rice, as program chairman of the day, introduced the speaker and also Nell Larson, noted radio pianist, who played a group of popular selections.

SEEKS $7337 FOR INJURIES IN CRASH

An automobile collision at Main and Sycamore streets, Orange, last March 8, in which B. C. Larimer claims to have suffered concussion of the brain, internal injuries, and cuts and bruises, was made the basis of a suit for $7337 damages, filed yesterday in superior court against Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Douglas and their son, Earl.

Earl Douglas was driving the Douglas car when it collided with a car driven by A. C. Merrick, with whom Larimer was riding. The collision caused Merrick to lose control of his car which collided with a tree at the roadside. It was stated. Larimer charges that young Douglas was responsible for the crash.

Quick Relief From Constipation

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative safe and pleasant.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache caused by constipation—you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

Thousands take them to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

DRY SEASON
PREDICTED BY
U. C. SCIENTIST

LA JOLLA, Oct. 25.—Another dry winter is predicted for California and the Pacific coast area, by Dr. George F. McEwen, oceanographer, at the University of California's Scripps Institution of Oceanography. Precipitation for the coming winter season of 1934-35 may be slightly greater than that of the last winter season, he states, but it will range between 62 to 85 per cent of the average of the years between 1916 and 1932.

Since 1915 Dr. McEwen has issued seasonal weather forecasts, usually about the middle of October, the forecasts covering the coming winter season. His predictions, based upon a study of cycles, and of the surface temperatures of ocean water, have been classed as particularly accurate. In only one or two instances have the variations in actual rainfall from the predicted precipitation been great enough to cause him to seek new methods for his forecasts.

"The long cycle of about 25 years, the prominent 5-year cycle, and the differences between the late summer and previous winter sea surface temperatures, have been used as before in estimating the probable 1934-35 seasonal precipitation," states Dr. McEwen. "While the long cycle is rising to a crest due probably before 1940, both the short cycle and sea temperature results combine to indicate a deficient precipitation for 1934-35. However, cycle studies alone indicate a definite increase in precipitation beginning with the 1935-36 season."

Williams To Build
On Riverside Drive

A new house and garage, to be built at a cost of $4500, will be erected at 2477 Riverside drive by Thomas E. Williams, 926 Hickory street, instructor of printing at the Santa Ana high school and junior college.

Williams took out a building permit yesterday and named E. C. Rogers as the general contractor. The home will be one-story and of frame and stucco construction.

HOME MODERNIZATION AND IMPROVEMENT CAMPAIGN IN COUNTY STARTS TOMORROW

With 125 persons employed to gather statistics in a county-wide survey which will mark the launching of a vigorous drive to make a success of the home modernization and improvement campaign in connection with the National Better Housing Program, the Orange county program will be launched tomorrow it was announced today by Frederic W. Sanford, who has been commissioned to direct the county-wide program.

The survey men will be employed from various parts of the county to make surveys in centers of population in the county. They will be trained and experienced workers whose business will be to courteously and efficiently obtain information regarding improvements which property owners have wanted to make for a long time but which they have been unable to do, but now are able to accomplish through the new housing program.

No high pressure salesmanship will be used by the surveyors, who will carry identification cards to show that they are official representatives of the county program as part of the program sponsored by the Federal Housing Administration.

Director Sanford pointed out today the program cannot help but be successful with the co-operation of the property owners, who will be benefitted through the program. Money now is available, he said, and character loans can be obtained by those entitled to credit. Financial institutions, material dealers and contractors in the county are cooperating in the program. Orange county better housing headquarters are in the Builders Exchange building, Santa Ana.

W. C. Jerome, chairman of the Santa Ana committee in charge of local organization and housing program details, pointed out today that the better housing program is being launched here to overcome the many ill effects of five years of stagnation in the building industry.

The program will do much to rehabilitate real estate values here and will be tremendously useful in furnishing employment and putting more money into circulation, it was stated. Jerome said the National Housing Act, which makes it possible for local banks to loan on extremely reasonable terms for needed repairs and improvements, is one of the soundest recovery measures that has been enacted.

The Huntington Library collection of books, art works and other valuables at the famous estate in San Marino provided material for an informative talk given Tuesday night when Lindley Byrum of the library's research staff, addressed Wrycende Maegden club at a weekly meeting in the Y. W. rooms.

Introduced by his friend, Thomas E. Formal announcement of the engagement of Miss Georgia Marie Turner, daughter of Mrs. L. A. Turner, 2028 Greenleaf street, and the late L. A. Turner, to Jack Paul Ricci of Orange, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ricci of Brighton, Colo., and Upland, Calif., was made this week when Mrs. Turner mailed betrothal cards to a bevy of close friends of the family.

There have been so many engagements and weddings in this younger social set of the city during the past few months that another did not occasion any great surprise. But there will be surprise in the fact that Miss Turner and Mr. Ricci are considering an early date for their marriage, having set Sunday, December 2, for the rites. This leaves only a short time for the many friends of the bride-elect, to plan parties in her honor and already there are rumors of some delightful events to come.

Miss Turner attended Santa Junior college after completing the high school course, but later transferred to Ramona Convent in Alhambra where she graduated. She is one of the season's pledges to Sigma Tau Psi sorority. Her fiancé attended high school in his home city of Brighton, where his father has large property and business interests. He graduated from Chicago University and is now superintendent of the Natural Foods Products company of Orange.

Varied Entertainment Planned for Prominent Easterners

Concluding a several days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Claude H. Van Antwerp in their home, 1500 Surf street, Balboa, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hatfield of Oklahoma City, have returned to Los Angeles preparatory to leaving shortly for their home. Mr. and Mrs. Van Antwerp accompanied their guests to Los Angeles.

Mr. Hatfield is secretary in Kiwanis International and came to the coast primarily to attend the district convention of the club held last week at Hotel Coronado. Mr. Van Antwerp is a member of Santa Ana Kiwanis club, and he and Mrs. Van Antwerp accompanied their house guests to the convention. Other Santa Anans in attendance at the sessions, which included several brilliant social functions in addition to business meetings, were Theo A. Winbigger, president of the local club; Mrs. Winbigger, Loren Moore, president-elect, Mrs. Moore, Dr. and Mrs. Cassius Paul and J. P. Baumgartner.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Antwerp and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Hatfield, returned to Balboa Sunday in time to greet other interesting house guests in the Van Antwerp home Monday, in the person of Mrs. Thomas Bledsoe of Chicago, and her daughter, Mrs. Cormack of Beverly Hills. Mrs. Bledsoe is spending some time with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Cormack. The former is scenario writer with the MGM studio. Mr. Bledsoe, who is president of the Santa Fe railroad, did not accompany Mrs. Bledsoe to the coast at this time.

The Van Antweps, who went to the nearby beach resort for the summer months, have decided to remain there during the early winter, deferring a return to Santa Ana until after the holidays.

Club Section Members Share Social Affair

Thirty or more members and guests of the Social section of Santa Ana Woman's club on Tuesday afternoon enjoyed the hospitality of their section leader, Mrs. P. B. Hornbeak, Mrs. A. G. Green, Mrs. George L. Wright and Mrs. William Almas, entertaining at a desert bridge party in the Hornbeak home, 919 North Olive street.

Autumn flowers in rich hues, graced baskets and vases placed about the home, and smaller blossoms in orange and golden tones were used with harmonizing candles on the small tables where the inviting dessert course was served with coffee.

Six tables were required for the bridge contest of the afternoon while remaining guests devoted themselves to anagrams. Mrs. Earl Ladd scored high in the bridge contest and was suitably rewarded with a similar prize going to Mrs. Mary Hutchins of the anagram players.

During the afternoon, clubwomen heard with interest Mrs. R. A. McMahon's announcement regarding the Halloween luncheon and party to be staged by the general club next Tuesday afternoon in the Doris Kathryn Luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock and will be followed by a program to which Mrs. McMahon, chairman, and her committee members are devoting much time and thought. Reservations must be made in advance through Mrs. R. G. Carman, club president, at 355 W.

Decision was reached to have all succeeding Social section meetings at 1:30 o'clock instead of 2 o'clock. The next meeting will be held November 27 with Mrs. Margaret E. Ahern, in Tustin.

Mothers' Club

Spending a busy morning with needlework, members of American Legion Auxiliary Mothers' club met Monday for their monthly all day session in Veterans' hall. Some of the group worked on quilt blocks and others stitched rug rugs to be sent to the hospital for World War veterans to weave into rugs.

At noon all gathered around a flower-decorated table to enjoy the covered dish menu, returning later to the lounge for the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Hattie Stowe, president. The club will meet again on November 26 in Veterans' hall.

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Breakfast

Orange Juice, 1 small glassful 4 Tbsps. cooked cereal with 1-2 cup skim milk and 1-2 tsp. sugar.

1 thin slice graham toast, dry 1 cup coffee with 1-4 cup hot skim milk. Calory total, 335.

Consistently Good Rolls

1 cake yeast 1 cup lukewarm water 1 cup water from boiled potatoes

1-3 cup sugar 2 tps. salt 1 egg, well beaten 3 Tbsps. melted fat 7 cups bread flour.

Soften the yeast cake in the cup of tepid water, add the tepid potato water, the egg, sugar and salt, and beat well with egg beater, adding about 3 cups of flour and the melted fat. Whip smoothly with egg beater or electric beater, add the balance of flour, turn onto board and knead until you can handle the dough on the board without flour. There is a peculiar elastic stage which dough reaches when it is done exactly right, and when you can make your dough behave on a flourless board, it's at that spot. Place dough in an oiled bowl and let it raise, punching down a couple of times. Then take what you want for rolls, shape and let them rise, knead down the rest of the dough and put in the refrigerator in a covered pan.

In shaping for rolls after the dough has been ice-boxed, do not knead it, simply shape and let it have about 3 hours at room temperature to rise. Delicious loaves may be made by spreading out the dough sprinkling it with sugar, cinnamon and sliced dates. Roll over and over, let rise until very light, then bake in a fairly quick oven. Lovely for toast.

A Baking Powder Graham Loaf

2 cups sour milk 4 Tbsps. dark molasses 1 tsp. salt 2 tps. soda 1 Tbsp. melted shortening 2 cups coarse graham flour 1 cup white flour 1 cup raisins, dredged in flour.

—Contributed.

Sift soda, salt and white flour into mixing bowl, add the raisins and mix well. Combine molasses and melted shortening with the sour milk and mix alternately with graham flour into the white flour. Pack the dough into an oiled pan. Let stand 15 minutes and bake 1 hour in a medium oven.

This loaf has better than 2500 calories to its credit. That makes each slice worth, close to 150.

A One-dish Meal

2 pounds hamburger 1 onion, minced 2 Tbsps. fat 1 can corn 1 package broad noodles.

Fry the onion in fat (bacon fat), pinch off bits of meat and add to the fat, cooking until all the red is out of meat. Add the can of corn and noodles, previously cooked. Place in baking dish and cook in slow oven 40 minutes. If tomato flavor is liked, add a can of tomato soup to the dish before baking.

With a crisp green salad, this makes a well balanced meal for eight people, at a cost of approximately 40 cents for the hot dish.

Friday: Orange Pudding, Minestrone, a thick soup of Italian origin, and a Fruit Salad dressing made with honey.

OF COURSE, A MATRON MAY WEAR FRILLS!

PATTERN 2050

BY ANNE ADAMS

All this about a matron never being allowed to wear a frill is rubbish. If they are placed right they help the silhouette rather than encumber it. The rippling lines of the revers in the design we show today are most flattering to the figure, and the little diagonally placed frills on the cuffs make hands look lovely and lend the gown a charming femininity. It is as a whole a very carefully thought out design. That panel down the back of the blouse is a nice slenderizing thing, and the bolero lines of the front and the little point below the waistline do extremely agreeable things. Charming in satin or crepe.

Pattern 2050 is available in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 takes 4 3-4 yards 39 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

Send for the new WINTER issue of the ANNE ADAMS PATTERN BOOK, and know what is new in smart clothes. It takes you through the whole of fashion from lingerie to outer garments . . . not overlooking some alluring new house frocks . . . and bearing in mind the needs of the younger generation. PRICE OF BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS. BOOK AND PATTERN TOGETHER TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Rose Point in Sterling

A new pattern by Wallace.....as exquisite.....and as elegant.....as the finest rose point bridal veil. The lacy design and delicate open work treatment of Rose Point make it a rich object. It is conceived in a decidedly modern manner, but reminiscent of priceless old rose point lace. The price....is very moderate.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

-- News Behind the News --

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

In the light of the happenings in the last 48 hours, this article today is extremely interesting to those who are following political events. This release, of course, was received before the news came out from Washington. (Editor).

STEPCHILD

There has been some whispering and planning about clearing up the White House standing of the Democratic stepchild, Upton Sinclair, before California goes to the polls.

The whispering is among those who are high enough in the administration to plan its business. They believe an erroneous public impression was created by President Roosevelt's first meeting with the EPIC Californian. They will even tell you the record Mr. Roosevelt himself is restless about it.

The president's plan was to see Sinclair briefly at Hyde Park in the presence of two or three other persons. However, he was so charmed by the fluent Sinclair that the conference lasted an hour and a quarter, and later word came out that the meeting was "wonderful". The natural deduction was that Mr. Roosevelt wanted Mr. Sinclair elected. That impression was strengthened by the way Messrs. Farley, Hopkins, et al., took the newcomer into the fold.

POSSIBILITIES

It would be exceedingly difficult for the White House now to change that idea, because Mr. Roosevelt must maintain the historic pose of taking no hand in local election contests.

But don't be surprised if some delicate means is found of correcting the misimpression. For instance, if Mr. Roosevelt should be asked whether he intended to take part in the California situation, he could answer no. Then, if asked whether he would vote for Gov. Lehman, he could answer yes. That might do the job.

Or it might be enough for Senator McAdoo or George Creel to say he is going fishing on election day in California. (Mr. Creel has been acting suspiciously as if he intended to come out against Mr. Sinclair openly).

At any rate, keep your eyes open for something along this line.

CONGRESS

Incidentally, the chiefs of the Democratic command are not very much impressed with the caliber of men they expect to get out of the coming election. This does not refer to the large proportion of Democratic congressional candidates, but to a few wild and woolly ones who are hell-raisers of no particular experience or standing.

A head man of Democracy recently returned from looking them over in the country and confided to a friend:

"There aren't many statesmen in the lot and they are going to be harder to handle than a flock of wild men."

VERMONT

The Democrats at G.H.Q. heard only a few days ago that they had an excellent chance to accomplish the impossible by defeating Republican Senator Austin in Vermont, where even the rocks have always been considered Republicans.

As a result, there has been some cagy strategy developed and some money raised.

The money is being used to circulate through Vermont an 11-page booklet, entitled: "What Austin Has Done For Vermont." The 10 succeeding pages, of course, are vacant. Not a single word adorns them.

It is not a new campaign trick. Some New Dealer was reading history and found it had first been done in Andrew Jackson's time, or thereabouts.

ERRATA

Investigation shows that President Harriman of the chamber of commerce was right the other day when he said he saw not a single newsman after his conference with Mr. Roosevelt. That may help to clear up some of the misunderstanding with the White House.

Another recent error was the prophecy that MacFadden's new political magazine would be out around the first of the year. It came out the very day the prophecy was published, which shows faster action than most columnar predictions.

Errors usually run in threes, but the third one has not yet developed.

AFTERMATH

The Russians and Germans are having a little private verbal war of their own over who killed King Alexander. Each is trying to blame the other.

Investia recently carried a lead article saying the Nazis had a hand in it. Berlin was infuriated, and Goering, premier of Prussia, hinted there was reason to think the Soviets may have been implicated.

NOTES

President Roosevelt's new pet statistician these days is Dr. William Thorpe, recently installed in NRA's research and planning division. He is the brain trust who refused confirmation by the senate as head of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce.

Even fur trappers of the Far North have their NRA code, although it's likely many of them never heard of it.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

HEEL

New York experts say that the Far Eastern ruckus caused by our silver policy will have an important—though indirect and unplanned—effect on Anglo-American monetary relations. It's claimed that we can force the British lion to eat out of our hand if we choose to take advantage of the situation.

The sharp figure it this way. Our silver purchases have forced the Chinese to declare a virtual embargo on exports of the metal as a measure of self-defense. This has driven Chinese exporters to the edge against their Japanese competitors and threatens Japanese trade supremacy in the Orient. The Japanese in turn have depreciated their yen still further to meet the menace.

What has this to do with Britain? Plenty. It's the yen—not the dollar—which keeps Nevil Chamberlain and British exporters awake nights. They were having a tough enough time trying to keep foreign markets alive in the face of Japanese competition before. A still cheaper yen hits them square in the solar plexus.

The British textile industry—one of the most vital—is faced with virtual extinction under this pressure. And here's the rub. Britain can't do a thing to defend herself against this nightmare unless we are willing to help.

We could do a lot—by the simple expedient of slapping a prohibitive tariff on silk. This would ruin Japan's primary export market and make it very difficult for her to acquire the exchange she urgently needs for the purchase of cotton. England can't do this for herself because her silk imports aren't big enough to matter. The informed believe Japan would be willing to make substantial concessions on money and trade if it would prevent the hurrying of such a large money-wrench into her economic machinery.

Astute New Yorkers are urging their Washington contacts not to pass up such a golden chance to bring the lion to heel. They suggest an unofficial offer to threaten Japan with a silk tariff—provided the British will go along with our leadership in international monetary affairs.

They don't believe the British could afford to refuse if the proposition is properly presented. There's no guarantee that anything will be done about it but it's under discussion in responsible quarters.

FAIR

New York financial and business leaders are deeply concerned with the Federal Trade Commission's answer to a riddle that would have made Solomon groan. The Commission is currently engaged in making a thorough study of the textile industry—as an aftermath to the textile strike settlement—and is expected to submit a report in about a month. The report will include recommendations as to the wage scales which various branches of the industry should properly pay. Still more important from the business man's viewpoint, the Commission will be obliged to define "fair profits"—at least by inference.

Conservatives contend that the President has talked a lot about fair profits without explaining what he meant. They figure the Trade Commission's findings—if accepted by the Administration—will give them a vital clue as to how much money the New Deal proposes to allow them to make.

It's rubies to radishes the FTC will be on the spot no matter what it decides. There's bound to be an implied limitation on the earnings of capital and it's equally certain that no matter where it's set—capital will complain bitterly about the destruction of the profit incentive.

ABLE

New Yorkers who have had recent contact with Washington have been surprised to find so many former corporate executives holding down important government jobs. They get the impression that the mental calibre of administrative office holders averages much higher than it has in the past and that an exceptional number of really able men are at the government's disposal.

This discovery is affecting the attitude of a number of business men toward the administration. Some of them are beginning to figure Washington can't be completely haywire with so many capable people on the job.

WORRY

Conservatives are cheered by the latest inside bulletins from California. Their scouts report that Sinclair is slipping and that in any case the State legislature will be so constituted as to put an effective lamper on his more radical ideas.

A keen New York observer remarks: "We have a lot more reason to worry about Minnesota than California. Floyd Olson has become about twice as radical as Sinclair and he's certain to be elected. It's a good thing our capital investments in that state are so small."

SUSPICIOUS

Wall Street wasn't as elated by the Literary Digest's latest poll as you might think. The boys are just naturally suspicious of any vote which shows a majority against the New Deal in Maine for August and September. Also

COMPLETION OF NAME HESSEL SANTIAGO PARK TO ACT WITH BUILDINGS NEAR SURVEY GROUP

ORANGE, Oct. 25.—The city park on the border of the Santiago creek is fast beginning to assume the appearance it will present as a recreation center of the community, with rest rooms and kitchen almost completed and preliminary work well under way on the bathroom.

The basement under the bathroom is practically finished. This part of the building will hold the machines for filtering the water and the chlorinators. Following the completion of the restrooms and kitchen, the grounds will be sown with grass seed.

Work of filling in behind a protective wall on the south side of the creek is now underway. The construction of this wall is the same as that on the north side of the creek, consisting of cement posts 21 feet in height with wide bases and smaller tops. The posts are connected by heavy cables and chicken wire behind which dirt is filled in.

The north wall was built last spring and it extends from the Gaslight street bridge to Shaffer street. The south wall starts some distance further east from the bridge and extends beyond Shaffer street. A channel 100 feet wide is left between the walls for the Santiago creek flow, which now is but a trickle.

ORANGE, Oct. 25.—Mayor C. J. Hessel was appointed to represent the city of Orange in a concerted action of Orange county cities in seeking a municipal survey project through the SERA, at a special meeting held yesterday afternoon in the city hall council chambers.

A resolution was adopted to allow the one-quarter cent share of the three-cent state gas tax to accumulate until a definite project in the city is selected for work. At present about $9000 is due Orange.

It was brought out that if no work is needed on state highways in the city limits the money may be used on other streets with the approval of the state. State highways within the city limits follow North and South Gaslight street and Chapman and Tustin avenues.

Plans were made to improve the city lot on the water plant site and the ground will be plowed and shrubs set out. It is possible a number of trees will be set out also.

"I'm going to climb down from this house and then, as quiet as a mouse, I'll peer into our new friend's hut, and see if he's all right."

Wee Duncy yawned and said, "Aw, gee, why did you have to waken me? I could have slept for hours and hours. I'm still tired, goodness knows."

"The rest of you may leave this spot, but I will stay here on this cot." Soon he began to snore so loud, it almost split his nose.

"I'm going to climb right down and run to get some leaves. I'll have some fun," said Dotty. "All the rest of you can wait right here for me."

She promptly disappeared, and then, real shortly, came right back again. Said she, "Now, watch wee Duncy. He's as ticklish as can be."

"Neath Duncy's chin she jerked a leaf, and soon the lad cried out, "Good grief! I can't sleep while you're doing that. Now I am wide awake."

"Ah, that's the stuff," cried Dotty. "You can join us now and have fun, too." They then climbed to the ground and Scouty cried, "For goodness sake!"

"There's our old friend, the cabin man. Just watch him work. He surely can chop wood. What is he making? He'll explain the

L.A. Concern Prepares To Erect Store

LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 25.—Confirming reports of extensive improvement projects in the center of the business district here, involving the removal of two structures in order to obtain a building site for a modern store structure, are surveys being made of the section in question in order to determine exact property lines, easements and the borders of public thoroughfares. It was learned today at the city hall, the surveys are being made by Hugh Peabody, local surveyor, on behalf of a large Los Angeles concern, which, it is said, is behind the proposed improvements.

In this connection inquiries revealed that inasmuch as there may be some question as to correct location of private property lines conflicting with the survey, while easements, the survey, while undertaken on behalf of private property owners, is made under the direction of City Engineer A. J. Stead. Coupled with this information, it also was indicated that the Los Angeles concern will appear before the council with a request for a formal acknowledgment of the survey, this to provide a clear track for the proposed project.

3 CASTS GIVE SAME PLAY AT LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 25.—A concrete demonstration that the success of a play depends in a great measure upon individual talent of the cast was given Tuesday and Wednesday evenings by the Laguna Beach Community players with the presentation of the identical same play, "Birds Fly South," by three different casts. The production, a one-act play, was one of the prize-winning entries at the recent contest staged by the Los Angeles County Drama association.

The purpose of the different presentations of the play, André Soos, managing director of the play group, explained was to show the play-going public how much depends upon the development of individual talent of the player, correct casting and proper stage setting. The director also wanted to show the residents of the art colony that there is no apparent lack of talent here when not less than three casts can be assembled at the same time for one production.

Community-wide interest in the experiment was evidenced by the large audiences that were on hand both nights for the presentation of the show. Tuesday night the cast was handled by Barbara Page, Dean Benton, June Storey and Ray Robertson, all talented players with more or less stage experience. A burlesque on the first showing was staged later in the evening by a cast made up of Marjorie Sangster, Richard Malone, Nevalle Ropp and Francis Clark. Last night the play was presented by a cast including Lowell Lissak, Edward Hobart, Charlene (Mickey) Giesford and Ray Robertson.

SCHOOL APPLIES FOR SERRA LABOR

WESTMINSTER, Oct. 25.—Application for SERRA labor to the amount of $2000 for the construction of the foundation of the new $44,000 school building for Westminster district has been sent in by Dr. Cecil D. Hardesty, superintendent of local schools, and the local school board.

Allison and Allison, architects, estimate the materials salvaged from the earthquake wrecked buildings worth $6500 and it is expected that most of these will be used in the new structure. The flooring was taken out by a special method and much of the wooden materials of the building are said to be as good as new.

The new building for which plans have been accepted by the state and government, will be of wood and stucco structure with light weight steel placed in all ceilings, making it earthquake proof. There will be eight classrooms, office, store room and rest rooms. Movable doors between the seventh and eighth grade rooms will allow this space to be made into an auditorium capable of seating 200. The stage, situated at one end and enclosed with accordion doors, will ordinarily be the teachers' lounge.

A nominating committee to select candidates for official posts was appointed at Wednesday night's annual dinner meeting of the Newport-Belshire Credit association. The committee, composed of Theodore Robbins, S. A. Meyer and A. F. Thompson, will select candidates at a meeting to be held next week. Balloting will be done by mail.

P. M. Brown, representing the Santa Ana Business Men's association, gave a short talk on the organization of credit groups. D. Glenn Tidball and E. H. Spicer, Santa Ana, also addressed the group in short talks on the purpose of credit associations.

THE UNKNOWN BLOND

David Bannister undertakes to find out who killed Tracy King, orchestra leader found dead in his hotel before his death; Herman Sourial who wrote King a threatening letter; and Joe Parrott, down-town hoodlum, who shot the King through the back alley.

King was engaged to wealthy Denise Lang, Matthew Hollister, Melvina's brother, tells Bannister he believes his sister knows something about the murder. Later Bannister, on his way to police headquarters, takes a short cut through a dark alley.

CHAPTER XXV

Bannister did not know it, but turning into that alley changed his plans completely. The alley was dark and totally deserted. Bannister hurried along with no thought for the darkness. He emerged on Fifth street, turned left, but had not taken more than a dozen steps before he halted.

A large, low-slung roadster had drawn up to the curb. The man at the wheel was leaning forward, smiling. Bannister recognized Parker Coleman.

"Hop in!" Coleman invited. "I'll take you wherever you're going."

"Thanks," Bannister told him, "but it's only a stop or two. I'm on my way to police headquarters."

Coleman nodded. "Might as well ride," he urged, and Bannister stepped into the roadster.

He settled back comfortably in the luxuriously cushioned seat. It was pleasant indeed riding in a car like that. He liked young Coleman, too; was glad to have this opportunity to talk with him.

"Anything new on the murder?" Coleman asked.

Bannister shook his head. "Not that I know of," he said. "McNeal was sure last night they'd get a confession from the girl, but they haven't got it yet. At least they didn't have two hours ago. That's why I want to stop in there."

Coleman devoted his attention to his driving. A moment later he brought the roadster to a stop before the old brick building that housed central police headquarters.

"Do you mind if I go in with you?" he asked. "Naturally I'm interested."

Bannister assured him that he did not mind in the least, and together they entered the building.

The man at the information desk told them Gaine had left a short time before. Bannister nodded and went on. Upstairs they found the same detective Bannister had talked with earlier in the afternoon. He shook his head when they

Newport W.C.T.U. In Discussion Of Ballot Measures

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 25.—The Newport Beach W. C. T. U. Wednesday announced itself as heartily endorsing initiative measure No. 13, for local option, on the ballot November 6, while coming out against measure No. 2, permitting the sale of all liquors in hotels, restaurants, public eating places and clubs.

Due to a conflict in arrangements, Dr. George Warner, of Santa Ana, who was scheduled to address the group on these two measures, was unable to appear. Members of the union voluntarily discussed the various measures on the ballot.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. J. J. Atwood in Newport Beach, who acted as hostess for the occasion. The group pledged itself to work actively on behalf of the local option measure.

CHILD'S LEG BROKEN

WESTMINSTER, Oct. 25.—Little Rosalie Larno, 18-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Larno, is confined to her home with a broken leg, the result of being struck by a car driven by her father when she toddled back of the machine as he was backing it from the garage.

HOLD LAST RITES

WINTERSBURG, Oct. 25.—The funeral of a former local resident, Mrs. Linn Rush, was held Tuesday at 21 Monte, where she had resided for several years, the last few of which she had been entirely blind.

Those attending from here were her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hyder and friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Vandruft, Mrs. Mary E. Clemens and Mrs. John Stinson.

By Laura Lou BROOKMAN

"This is the place," Coleman explained. "They call it 'The White Cottage' but it's not such a tea room as that sounds. Good food and plenty of it."

They left the car and went inside. Warm air, lights and the odor of appetizing foods blended invitingly. The room they entered had evidently once been an ordinary cottage living room. There was a fireplace at one end in which logs were burning. Six or seven tables, spotlessly white, filled the space.

A woman came to meet them and led them to a table near the fireplace. When the orders were given Coleman drew a cigarette case from his pocket and extended it.

"Have one," he said.

It was ten minutes later, over the plates of fried chicken and sweet potatoes and delicious golden corn, that Bannister had his inspiration. He broke open a hot, rusty biscuit, buttered it and spoke slowly.

"Do you know Matthew and Melvina Hollister?"

Coleman thought a moment. "Why, yes," he said. "Brother and sister, aren't they? Used to see them at church." He paused, grinning. "That's been some time ago, I'll admit. I'm not exactly—er, regular about church attendance these days. But I used to go when I was a kid. Mother insisted on it. And I used to see that couple there, always together. Matthew and Melvina. Swell pair of names, isn't it?"

Bannister said, "I was talking with Matthew today. Maybe you didn't know that the Hollisters live at the Shelby Arms. In the apartment directly below the one where Tracy King was killed."

Parker Coleman took his cigarette from his lips. "No, I didn't know that," he said.

"Well, they go, McNeal and I were out there the other evening but we didn't get much from them. I was more interested in what Matthew told me today."

He repeated the story, adding what he had learned before about Melvina's canary bird.

"I've been wondering what to do about all this," Bannister went on. "There's no use in my trying to talk to the woman. She'd shut up like a clam. McNeal couldn't talk anything out of her either, some she's made up her mind to do reason, not to have."

With the police, he said, Coleman, "But if you talk to her? Maybe why don't you? What it was she saw she'd thought—or if she saw anything?"

"You mean," Parker Coleman

CHALLENGE TO AMERICA TOLD SERVICE CLUB

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 25.—Stating that America is facing the greatest challenge to its ideals of liberty and individual freedom since its inception, B. Z. McKinney, candidate for district attorney of Orange county, yesterday addressed the Newport Harbor Service club on "The Present Day Challenge to Democracy and Religion in the United States."

Sketching briefly the course of the social experiments under way in Europe and Russia, the speaker said that while the United States was under perhaps the oldest organic system of government, it was also the most pliable and elastic.

"The challenge," McKinney said, "is one of the dictatorship or democracy, and we are facing it now, in the way Americans should."

The speaker maintained that the heritage of our country is many fold, embracing individual liberty, freedom of the press, the right of suffrage and individual sovereignty. "The aim of this country has been and must be to make government the servant, and not the master of the individual," he said.

Drs. Conrad Richter and C. R. Jackson sketched developments in European politics in their relation to this country, stating that in very few countries is the fight for liberty still being waged, as a wave of "isms" sweeps the world. Dr. Jackson, just returned from Europe, gave an interesting account of his journey.

Dr. R. C. Harris, of Santa Ana, addressed the group in regard to initiative measure No. 17, known as the Naturopathic act, urging that the measure be defeated, as a protection to the patient and to the state's license holders—physicians and surgeons.

James Watkins, Harry Hyde and Sidney Davidson were appointed as a special committee to arrange for the participation of the club in the Anaheim Halloween party.

U. S. OFFICER GIVES FACTS ABOUT WILKIE

Sir Basil Thompson, head of Scotland Yard.

"And then, too, these same opponents stoop to belittle his wartime service. That, according to my way of thinking, is the dirtiest thing they have done. I wonder how many of the people who have sought to smear up his war record were actually in the service themselves? I wonder how many of them have been awarded official citations for gallant war service? I don't suppose Captain Don Wilkie has told you—few ex-service men like to parade their laurels—but I'm going to tell you now, whether he likes it or not, that he holds citations of which any man would be proud. I have seen them and I know what they were awarded for.

"I have known Captain Wilkie for 30 years and have worked side by side with him in government service. You now have the record of Captain Don Wilkie, your candidate for sheriff, direct from the lips of one who has known him since his youth and one who has come to his aid because he does know him for exactly what he is—one of the finest, cleanest, most upright and honest men I have ever known in my life, as well as one of the finest law enforcement officers in the United States today.

"You good people of Orange county are extremely lucky in having the opportunity of electing such a man to your sheriff's office. He will fill every promise he makes to you. He is a man of high principles, he is kind and considerate, he is honest and he is efficient.

"If you want a sheriff who has all the qualifications necessary to fill that office with economical efficiency, coupled with the ability to manage and to win the undying devotion of not only the men under him, but of every man, woman and child in Orange county, I'll tell you straight from the shoulder that you will be passing up your greatest chance if you fail to elect this sterling gentleman, this world authority on criminal matters, this seasoned and expert former United States government officer, this officer who enforces the law with a stern hand but who deals generously in the milk of human kindness, this man who knows men and how to lead them—not follow, this man who battles the selfish grafting politicians for the public good, this crusader for homes as well as efficiency in office," Taylor declared.
